Our Tax agent or BAS agent online services guides include a detailed list of the queries and functions you can complete in Online services for agents.

Next step

System requirements

To ensure the security of Online services for agents transactions, you must meet minimum security and computer requirements.

To log in, you'll need to use both:

- myID – a Digital ID credential to prove who you are online
- Relationship Authorisation Manager (RAM) – an authorisation service that allows you to act on behalf of a business.

Each user must have their own Digital ID, such as myID to log in. If there is more than one user account in your practice, the principle authority must:

- authorise staff to act on behalf the practice in RAM
- use Access Manager to manage staff accesses to functions and records.

Your computer settings will need to meet our minimum system requirements.

To check your settings, use our Online services system requirements check.

Client details

We introduced 2 new fields to the Client details screen:

- ATO app registration status indicates whether your individual client has registered their device using the ATO app.
- Account lock status indicates whether your individual client's account has been locked – either by the client or by the ATO.

Employee super accounts – requesting alternative stapled super funds

We have updated the Requesting stapled fund accounts service to include a new option for Requesting an alternative super account for employers when they are requesting a stapled super fund for their employees. When filling in employee details on behalf of your employer clients, at Requesting an alternative super account:

- Select Yes where a super account has been requested for this employee previously but the account was unable to receive super contributions.
- Select No if this is the first request for the employee's stapled super fund details or the employee has not provided the employer with their choice of super fund.

This will ensure details for a previously supplied stapled super fund that is ineligible to receive contributions are not provided again.

Client list

How to view, download and maintain your client list in Online services for agents.

Last updated 25 February 2025

View your client list

In Online services for agents, you can view a list of clients with whom your registered agent number (RAN) is linked.

You can also download the client list if you have permission in Access Manager. The principal authority or authorisation administrator of your practice will automatically have access to download the client list.

To view the client list you can use the:

- Client list quick link on the Agent home page
- Advanced search
- View client list link under Search.

More than 3,500 clients

If you have more than 3,500 clients, you need to download clients into separate lists using the following filters:

- relationship
- entity type
- tax product.

You can save each file separately or combine into one file.

If, after applying the filters, you still have more than 3,500 clients, the list won't be able to be downloaded. You will need to contact us to request a copy of your client list.

Clients not showing on the client list

If some of your clients are not displaying on your client list, it may be because:

- we have classified them as security-assessed
- your access to the client has been restricted in Access Manager
- we have end dated your access due to a change in client status (for example, deceased).

Security-assessed clients are clients we classify for privacy reasons. Access to these clients and their details won't be available in Online services for agents. To view these clients, you will need to phone us.

Restricted clients are clients whose accounts you decide are sensitive or private for your practice. Examples might include high-profile people, politicians, or your own account. You can add clients to your practice's restricted client list using Access Manager. You can then manage who has permissions to view and action each or all of the restricted client's accounts.

You must not add a deceased client to your client list unless:

- you are the legal personal representative (LPR) for the estate with grant of probate or letters of administration, or
- you have been appointed by the LPR with a court grant to act on their behalf, and
- the LPR has notified us of their own appointment and are recorded as an authorised contact for the estate before you access the deceased client record (they can also notify us of your appointment).

Your access to a deceased client will be end dated if:

- we determine you have been engaged by an executor or family member who has chosen not to apply for a court grant to formally manage the estate
- we have no record of an authorised LPR.

For information on your access and authorisations see Accessing a deceased person's tax and super information.

FBT client list

You can request a fringe benefit tax clients (FBT) client list which has more detail than the list generated from Online services for agents.

The list will include your FBT clients, all years, due dates and details of late or on-time FBT returns.

To request the list:

- select Practice mail then
- New
- Topic Fringe benefits tax
- Subject Agent request for electronic FBT client list

- Enquiry type I am enquiring on behalf of practice
- type 'FBT client list request' in the message field
- select Send.

You will receive the list within 28 days.

Maintain your client list

It is important to regularly review your client list to add new clients and remove those you no longer represent.

This will help:

- avoid unnecessary contact from us about previous clients
- ensure your lodgment performance calculation reflects your active client list.

You can also add, remove or update client details using the practitioner lodgment service.

Before you remove a client, you must remove your contact details from their record. While the client removal screen includes reminders to do, failing to do so won't prevent the client from being removed.

You:

- can open multiple windows or tabs to keep your client list open while you remove contact details and delete the client from your list
- should also remove your contact details  from the Australian Business Register.

Be aware that lodging a final return or advising that a further return is not necessary, does not remove the client from your list.

Client list has clients you no longer represent

Your client list in Online services for agents may have clients you no longer represent, even though they weren't listed in the closed tax and BAS agent portals. This happens when your authorisation as a client's registered tax or BAS agent has not been removed from all roles and accounts. This generally occurs for clients where a final return has been lodged, whose role or accounts have been cancelled or who are deceased.

You will need to remove these clients from your client list.

There are some clients you won't be able to remove, for example, deceased clients. For these clients, you will need to notify us, and we will remove them from your list.

To notify us of clients you want to remove in bulk:

- download the client list using the CSV format – if you have more than 3,500 clients you will need to do this in separate files
- remove all current clients you would like to remain authorised for
- keep the identifier and name of clients you want to remove from the client list
- save the list as an Excel file
- delete your contact details from the clients' records that you are wanting us to remove
- select Communication then
 - Practice mail
 - New
 - Topic Debt and lodgment
 - Subject Bulk client removal
 - Enquiry type General enquiry
 - type 'Unable to remove clients in Online services for agents' in the message field
- attach the list of clients you want removed
- select Send.

We may take up to 3 weeks to remove the clients. We will let you know when your request is complete.

Client communication

You can access your client's digital communications using Communication preferences and Communication history.

Media:Communication preferences in a few easy steps

<https://tv.ato.gov.au/ato-tv/media?v=bi9or7on9us3q3>  (Duration: 2 min 02 sec)

Features

There are 2 features you can use to manage your clients' communications in Online services for agents:

- Client mail inbox – if you have set your clients' communication preferences to your practice, you can view their digital communications here.
- Communication history – allows you access to a list of most communications we have issued to your clients.

Communication preferences

Communication preferences is a feature in Online services for agents that lets you and your client choose where digital communications are sent.

Using communication preferences

You can set a client's communication preferences to reflect their circumstances and your engagement with them. You can choose to apply preferences to as many clients as you wish.

Communication preferences will not change activity statement lodgment channels or who will receive activity statement notifications.

Before setting your clients' communication preferences, you must:

- be appointed by the client as their registered agent
- have their written authority to set the communication preferences

- have set your practice's default communication preferences.

In addition to your Practice mail inbox, communication preferences uses a mailbox called the Client mail inbox in Online services for agents. It enables you to view in real time what digital communications we are sending you on your clients' behalf. You can also continue to use communication history to view communications.

There are 2 communication preferences that can be set;

- Practice - most of your clients' communications will be sent to you digitally
- Client - communications will be sent to your clients' myGov inbox if they have one linked to the ATO, or by post to the address we have on record. You may still receive paper letters if your practice's postal address is listed on your clients' records.

If your client's preference is:

- for their communications to be sent to your practice
 - your client's preferred address for service for these communications will be Online services for agents
 - we will send these communications to you in Online services for agents – you will be responsible for notifying your client about these communications
 - your client will no longer receive a notification in their myGov Inbox that they have mail.
- to receive their communications directly
 - we will continue to send communications to their myGov Inbox (if they have a myGov account linked to the ATO) or to the postal addresses we have on record
 - you will not receive a notification in your Client mail inbox that a communication has been sent to your client.

We'll continue to send communications as we do now if you don't set your client's communication preferences.

If you are a tax agent, you can set preferences for all 6 communication types (based on your client's authorisation):

- income tax

- activity statement related
- study and training support loans
- superannuation
- debt
- employer and business obligations.

If you are a BAS agent, you can set preferences for 2 communication types:

- activity statement related
- debt.

Some communications cannot be sent digitally. These will continue to be sent by post. We are enabling more communications to be sent digitally over time.

Client authorisation requirements

You should only set communication preferences for communication types that a client has authorised you to act on. Before you set or update their communication preferences, ensure you have clear and written authorisation from a client.

You should talk to your client and agree on what communications you will receive on Online services for agents (on their behalf) and what they will receive and action. For example, Online services for agents allows you to set a client's communication preferences for you to receive debt communications. If this is not a service you provide, you may not want to receive your client's debt communications and choose to set communication preferences for this communication type to Client.

You should also let your client know what happens if they want you to set their communication preferences to either you as their agent or themselves.

You can view a client's digital communications relevant to your role in Communication history but it will not alert you when new communications are received if the communication preference is set to your client.

Preferred address for service

Every taxpayer is required to give us at least one preferred address for the service of ATO communications. If taxpayers want to nominate, change or withdraw their preferred address for service they must lodge an approved form.

The preferred address for service must be in Australia and can be:

- a physical address (for example, a street address)
- a postal address (for example, a post office box)
- an electronic address (for example, a secure website).

When a taxpayer registers for a myGov account and links it to the ATO, their myGov Inbox becomes their preferred address, as stated in the terms and conditions.

When you set or change a client's communication preferences to your Practice, you are designating Online services for agents as their preferred address for certain ATO correspondence.

Agent and client declaration requirements

When you set or change your client's communication preferences in Online services for agents, you are lodging an approved form on their behalf to change their preferred address (or addresses) for the service of ATO communications.

Because of this, and before you set or update a client's communication preferences, the law requires you to:

- receive express written authority (either electronically or on paper) from your client stating that they have authorised you to change or withdraw their preferred address for service.
- provide a declaration that:
 - you have received express written authority from your client to change or withdraw their preferred address for service
 - you are setting or updating the client's communication preferences in accordance with the information supplied by your client
 - you have received a declaration from your client stating the information provided to you is true and correct.

Each time you set or change your client's communication preferences, you will be asked to tick a declaration box.

A client is required to retain the written authorisation and declaration (or a copy) they give you for up to 5 years, depending on their circumstances. We recommend you also keep a copy for your own records.

The written authorisation and declaration can be stored electronically regardless of whether it was received by email or in paper form.

How to obtain written authorisation from your client

When you engage a new client, you could incorporate their written authorisation into your letter of engagement. You may ask them to provide this by electronic or paper form.

For existing clients, it may be more efficient to ask for their written authorisation via email or during your next interaction with them.

To meet the legal requirements, we recommend clearly explaining to your client which ATO communication types you want sent digitally to you and which will be sent directly to them.

If your client is responsible for multiple entities, they can provide written authorisation for you to set the communication preferences for more than one entity at the same time, if the authorisation:

- is provided by the primary contact – for example an individual, trustee or director
- clearly states the communication preferences for each entity and communication type.

If you represent your client in both their capacity as an individual and trustee – for example, for their family trust – then their written authorisation (as a primary contact) will need to clearly state their communication preferences relating to their individual and trust tax affairs.

Written authorisation example

This is an example you could use for obtaining a client's written authorisation to set their communication preferences. Alternatively, you could combine this information with other written authorisations, such as new client engagement or lodgment declarations.

Example: letter to client

Dear <client>,

As part of the Australian Taxation Office's commitment to improving online services, a service known as Communication preferences has been introduced.

With your written authorisation, this service will allow tax agents to set which ATO communications are sent to <my/our> practice digitally (on your behalf) and which communications are sent directly to you.

Communication preferences will be set on your behalf based on your instructions. To allow <us/me> to set your communication preferences I will need your written authority.

<We/I> recommend that the following communication types are sent directly to <us/me> digitally:

<Income tax>

<Superannuation>

<Study and training support loans>

<Activity statement related>

<Debt>

<Employer and business obligations>

If you agree, the ATO will send digitally enabled communications for the above communication types to Online services for agents.

If you agree to have the above communication types sent to <me/us> digitally, please respond to this email and tell <us/me>. Please also include a declaration in your reply that the information you have provided to me to set or change your communication preferences is true and correct.

If you do not respond by <insert date>, <we/I> will assume that you do not agree to allow us to set which ATO communications are sent to <us/me> on your behalf, and there will be no changes to how you receive ATO communications.

If you have any questions please feel free to contact <me/us> on <contact details>.

Kind regards,

<Agent>

Setting preferences

Before setting a preference, consider if its functionality will benefit your entire practice.

You need to set default communication preferences for your practice before you can set any communication preferences for your clients. This allows you to set, at the practice level, the default communication preferences (or favourites) that can be applied to your clients.

Setting default communication preferences for your practice

Only a Principal Authority or an Authorised Administrator can set and change default communication preferences. When the default is set for the first time, these settings will not be applied to your clients.

How to set your default communication preferences:

- At the agent home page, select Communication then Preferences.
- Select Practice or Client to determine who we should send communications to for each communication type.
- Select Apply.

To change your default communication preference, you will need an updated written authorisation from any clients who have your default setting. The default preferences will be automatically updated for all clients who had the default setting originally applied. You can use Advanced search to check which clients have your practice's default preferences set.

Setting default preferences is the first step in a 2-step process, next you have to set the communication preference for each client that you want to receive communications digitally.

Setting client communication preferences

To set a client's communication preferences, you must have access to update client addresses in Access Manager.

You can either apply your default preferences or set personalised communication preferences tailored to each client.

Communication preferences can be added:

- to a client when you add them to your client list
- individually in their Profile page
- to up to 50 clients at a time using the Bulk preferences functionality.

You must receive written authority from your client before you can set or update their communication preferences.

You can set communication preferences for a single client, if you:

- select a client
- at the Client summary select Profile then Communication preferences
- then select either
 - My practice default communication preferences
 - a combination of Practice or Client to determine who we should send your client's communications to for each communication type.

To use the Bulk preferences function, you:

- select Communication then Bulk preferences
- can create a list of up to 50 clients
- select Apply default communication preference or a combination of Practice or Client to determine who we should send these clients' communications to for each communication type
- select Submit.

Note: Setting a client's communication preferences to Practice, will designate Online services for agents as the client's preferred address for service for certain ATO communications.

Viewing the communication preferences set for your clients

You can download a list of your clients that have set specific preferences set, by selecting:

- Advanced search and filter by:
 - Communication type – select the communication type (you can only filter one type at a time)
 - Destination – select from
 - Client
 - Practice
 - Set to my practice default
 - Not set to my practice default
 - No preferences set
- Download and save the search results as a HTML or CSV file.

Client mail inbox

The Client mail inbox allows you to view your clients' communications that have been sent to you digitally via the Agent Digital channel.

You can access the mailbox when you:

- select Communication then Client mail.
- customise the home page in Online services for agents to add the Client mail feature. This will show you when there are new unread communications in the inbox.

The inbox will display the last 35 days of undeleted communications. It can be filtered by client, date or communication type.

You can also retrieve up to 60 days of undeleted communications.

The inbox will not have all your clients' communications, but only those communication types where the preference is set to Practice. You will need to check Communication history for:

- communications sent to your clients
- other communication types such as SMS and paper.

Any communication sent to Online services for agents will be visible in your:

- Client mail inbox
- Communication history

- client's Communication history.

Communication history

Communication history gives you access to most communications we have issued to your clients or you as their agent.

You can:

- view most letters, emails and SMS messages
- access communications from 1 July 2008
- view communications that have been sent digitally, even when they have been deleted from the Client mail inbox.

Not all our communications with you and your clients are available in the Communication history.

Communication history will also show communications sent to your clients' other agents if they have one.

You can use filters in the Communication history to view:

- All clients, one client or up to 3 clients at a time
- Communication type - Communications or Activity statements
- Time period – Last 24 hours, Last 7 days, Last 30 days, Last 5 years (not available for All clients search) or Choose dates - in periods of up to 5 years
- Channel – myGov, Email, SMS, Paper, Agent Digital or ATO Online.

You can also view a specific client's communication history when you are in their account by selecting Profile then Communication history.

Below are some of the communications available. See Communication types for more detail.

Tax agents can access:

- notices, such as notices of assessment
- statements of account
- payment arrangement letters

Online services for agents feedback

How you can provide feedback about Online services for agents and what we do with your feedback.

Last updated 25 February 2025

We developed Online services for agents in collaboration with you and your professional associations. Many of the enhancements we make are due to your feedback. We want you to continue to provide feedback about how we can improve the service.

How to provide feedback

Select the Give us feedback link located at the bottom of each screen in Online services for agents. Provide as much detail as possible.

Our troubleshooting page lists issues we know about that may prevent you from completing an action in the system. We update this page when an issue has been resolved. Before providing your feedback, check this page to see if an issue is already listed.

Using your feedback

We use your feedback to:

- fix identified issues (like those listed on the troubleshooting page)

- investigate whether improvements can be made to the system.

While we can't respond to all feedback we receive, we may contact you if we need to clarify your feedback.

Outcomes from feedback

All system changes are prioritised within our schedules of system maintenance, major system updates and system fixes.

You can keep up-to-date with the system enhancements we are planning by subscribing to our Tax professionals newsletter.

For a quick summary of enhancements we have made, view our Key changes page.

Co-designing Online services for agents

When co-designing the Online services for agents system, we used your feedback on issues with the now closed tax and BAS agent portals to refine the functionality of the new service.

We worked with many tax and BAS agents to test the system in a live environment. Our testing participants came from around the country – from regional and metropolitan areas – and from practices of varying sizes – from sole practitioners to larger national firms.

The participants in private beta testing provided valuable feedback to help us improve the service before public beta testing opened in January 2019.

Online services for agents became the default login for all agents on 17 August 2019.

We are making similar functionalities available to digital service providers for them to include in their practice management software. It is their decision about when these services will be built into their commercial software. We'll continue to consult and co-design to determine the priorities and the most effective way to deliver this transition.

Information about our other digital services is available:

Online services for agents terms and conditions

Outlines your obligations as a user of Online services for agents and our obligations to you.

Last updated 20 March 2025

Terms and conditions of use of Online services for agents

When we say:

- we, us and our, we mean the Australian Taxation Office (ATO)
- you and your, we mean you as the user of Online services for agents, which may include any user within your practice who has access to your system or credentials
- Online services for agents, we mean this electronic data system that we provide
- person, we mean an individual, a partnership and any entity whether incorporated or not.

How these terms and conditions apply

These terms and conditions apply to your current use of Online services for agents.

These terms and conditions, your use of Online services for agents, and information provided to you through Online services for agents, are governed by the laws in force in the Australian Capital Territory, Australia.

Your obligations as a user of Online services for agents

1. Access security

When you use a security credential (or password) to access Online services for agents, you must:

- comply with the terms and conditions that relate to your security credential, including
 - Responsible use of myID, RAM and online services
 - myID terms of use
- keep your security credential (or password) secure at all times
- not disclose your security credential (or password) to any person or share it with others.

Your ongoing access to our systems is dependent on appropriate use of myID (security credential).

You must not access Online services for agents if access has either:

- not been issued to you using your own security credential
- been revoked by its issuing authority.

If your security credential has been compromised, or if there is any change in the information on which the issue of your security credential was based, you must report it straight away.

2. Data and system security

Data about individuals and entities provided to you through Online services for agents is confidential. You must ensure that unauthorised persons do not have access to that data. You cannot pass on any information to a third party without consent from the person you are currently appointed by. Don't leave your computer unattended, even briefly. You must log out of Online services for agents or lock your computer when not in use.

In addition to safeguarding data within your systems, you must make all reasonable efforts to ensure controls are in place to safeguard your systems, networks and resources. Adequate protection means you have implemented protections to ensure your systems, networks and resources are safe from downtime, interference or malicious intrusion. For more information, see Security advice for tax professionals and businesses.

If you think you have identified a vulnerability in one of our systems, services or products, report it to us as quickly as possible.

3. Client verification

You must undertake proof of identity (POI) before providing tax or BAS agent services:

- to new clients
- on an ongoing basis to existing clients, as appropriate.

Our minimum requirements

You must apply the ATO's guidelines for client verification known as the Agent client verification methods. These guidelines outline the practical steps and methods to perform client verification when using ATO systems.

The Tax Practitioners Board (TPB) Practice Note (PN) TPB\(PN\) 5/2022  Proof of identity requirements for client verification provides an overview of the client information you should verify and types of documents you can use to verify their identity.

If you follow the ATO guidelines in conjunction with the requirements prescribed by the TPB, you're deemed to have met the client verification requirements of both agencies.

These POI requirements for client verification are mandatory from 1 July 2023.

4. Acting for another person

To use Online services for agents to access data relating to, or to carry out a transaction for, another person, you must be currently appointed by that other person to access that data or carry out that transaction on their behalf. That appointment must not have been revoked. You cannot use this system to conduct one-off searches for clients you do not perform other services for.

If your appointment is based on you holding a certain:

- position (for example, as that other person's employee or agent for tax purposes), you must currently hold that position
- qualification (for example, as a registered tax or BAS agent), you must currently hold that qualification and that qualification must not be suspended or cancelled.

5. Employee access

If you are managing access for employees to use Online services for agents, you must ensure:

- access is restricted to your employees, and they are aware of and comply with these terms and conditions
- proper use of Online services for agents, and that employees are aware of their responsibilities when using Online services for agents
- employees know and adhere to privacy protocols and the need-to-know principles
- employees understand security protocols and checks. They take all reasonable steps to prevent and detect unlawful and unauthorised use.
- You actively monitor your staff's usage of our Online services for agents to ensure actions being performed are as intended and comply with the terms and conditions of their use
- they immediately notify us if they know or suspect access has been compromised or any other security breach has occurred
- employees are aware of your data breach response plan. A data breach response plan is crucial for tax professionals to have in place. It should set out the roles and responsibilities that need to be actioned in the event of a data breach. For more information, see Data breach guidance for tax professionals.

6. Reasonable use

Our digital services (including Online services for agents) are designed and intended for human interaction only. They must not be used for any purpose contravening the terms and conditions outlined in this document.

Reasonable use provides people who use our systems with clear expectations on using them to ensure system performance is consistent and maintained for all users.

You must ensure that you do not, and agree not to enable others to, use:

- high volume 'data calls' on our systems. If sustained, these may degrade our system performance and affect the experience of users
- high volume programs which negatively impact other users or the performance of our systems
- any form of automated or systematic extraction device, program, algorithm or methodology on any or all of the data, including (but not limited to) the use of
 - 'screen-scrappers', 'bots' or 'spiders'
 - any other type of automated extraction tool not approved by us.

We actively monitor system use and can detect abnormal usage patterns.

Our services offered through Standard Business Reporting (SBR) are intended to be incorporated into software and can enable higher volume transactions.

7. Breach of terms and conditions

If you breach any of these terms and conditions, you must:

- immediately advise us of that breach
- immediately stop using Online services for agents
- not use the service again until we advise you can.

A breach of these terms and conditions may result in one or more of the following actions:

- a direction to change your system usage
- suspending your access to the service
- terminating your access to the service.

- possible investigation.

8. Digital correspondence

By accepting these terms and conditions, you are agreeing to receive correspondence from us electronically.

There may be situations where correspondence is sent to you via multiple channels. This occurs because we need to meet the deemed service provisions contained in the Taxation Administration Regulations 2017 and mandatory service requirements under the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

9. Responsibility for actions

You will be responsible for (and indemnify us against) any loss or damage to any person arising from any of the following:

- any breach by you of these terms and conditions
- any wilful, negligent or unlawful act or omission by you in relation to, or in the course of using, Online services for agents.

However, your liability to us will be reduced to the extent that any wilful, negligent or unlawful act or omission by us has contributed to that loss or damage.

Your responsibility for activities undertaken by you through Online services for agents (for example, updates you made, notices, statements, applications and other documents you transmitted to us) will continue despite you ceasing to use Online services for agents or having access to it.

Note: Once you assign permissions to an authorised user, you are responsible for the actions of the user accessing our Online services for agents. Anything they do is legally binding to your business. For more information, see About Access Manager.

Our obligations

1. Privacy and secrecy obligations

For information about your privacy, refer to the ATO privacy policy. We will ensure that Online services for agents complies with privacy laws at all times.

2. Provision of Online services for agents

We can:

- limit your ability to use Online services for agents
- terminate your access to Online services for agents at any time
- work out the times and periods during when Online services for agents transmissions can take place
- vary the terms and conditions of use of Online services for agents. This means that the terms and conditions applicable when you next use Online services for agents may be different from these terms and conditions
- review the activities of users of Online services for agents to ensure they are meeting the relevant terms and conditions of use.

3. Online services for agents and linked sites

Online services for agents may not contain all the information that you need. We do not prepare (or necessarily endorse) the information not on our sites, even if linked to our site. We take no responsibility for your use of a site we are not responsible for or the information on it.

4. Information sent via Online services for agents

We are not responsible for:

- the accuracy, veracity and completeness of material transmitted to us
- errors in the manner of the input of material transmitted to us
- any information you may lose as a result of equipment or power failures or our servers terminating your session due to prolonged periods of inactivity.

5. Limited liability

We will not be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, consequential or exemplary damages (including for loss of profits, goodwill, information, data or other intangible losses) resulting from:

- the use or inability to use Online services for agents

- unauthorised access or alterations of your transmissions to or from Online services for agents
- activities resulting from the loss or misuse of your security credential
- statements or conduct of any third party
- any other matter relating to Online services for agents.

6. No warranties by us

Except as specified in these terms and conditions, we give no implied or express warranties relating to the use of Online services for agents. All statutory warranties are, to the fullest extent permitted by law, expressly excluded.

Using the Online services for agents dashboard

The Online services for agents dashboard allows you to see if Online services for agents is functioning normally or not.

Last updated 13 August 2025

About the dashboard

The Online services for agents dashboard  lets you see at a glance if Online services for agents is operating normally or experiencing issues.

Using data directly from our monitoring systems, the dashboard uses a traffic light system to show if Online services for agents is available or experiencing issues.

Meaning of dashboard colours

Dashboard colours change when the number of error messages or slow responses experienced by users is above a defined threshold. When multiple users are experiencing an issue, the dashboard will display the issue.

There are 4 categories:

- Operational (green) – the system is working, with no known performance or availability issues detected
- Degraded performance (blue) – slow performance (more than 30% of requests exceed a 5-second response time)
- Partial outage (yellow) – limited access or working intermittently (login is unavailable to more than 5% of users, and other services are unavailable to more than 15% of users)
- Major outage (red) – system unavailable.

The colour against the system reflects its overall status. You can expand the information by clicking on the plus sign and down arrows to reveal the status of the following services:

- Login service
- Search communication history – to search and retrieve communications we have issued for your clients
- View communication history – to view a piece of correspondence found in the search function
- Access practice and client reports
- Access Single Touch Payroll (STP) reports
- View client accounts
- Create or view mail messages
- File transfer – displays the availability of the file transfer facility to upload approved files
- Access super clearing house – availability of the Small business super clearing house (SBSCH). From 1 October 2025, only existing users of the SBSCH will have access until 30 June 2026. Employers will not be able to register as new users of the SBSCH after 1 October 2025.

- Add or remove clients
- Update client details
- View or Lodge activity statements
- Pre-fill
- On demand reports.

Why the dashboard colours may not reflect your experience

Following are several possible reasons why the dashboard might not accurately reflect your current experience — for example, it may show a green status even though it's not functioning properly for you:

- The dashboard reflects the current operational status of Online services for agents itself. It doesn't show issues affecting external systems it depends on, such as myID, RAM, internet connectivity, and the Digital Identity Exchange. If any of these third-party systems experience an outage or performance issues, it may impact functionality even though the dashboard appears normal.
- You may be one of the first users to receive an error message or experience a slow response time – the dashboard will update when multiple users experience the same issue.
- The dashboard updates every 5 minutes – so it may take a few minutes for the colour to reflect your experience.
- You may not be assigned the appropriate permissions in Access Manager to perform the desired function or interaction.

If you experience access issues or slow response times for more than 5 minutes and the dashboard is green, refer to:

- System maintenance to check if scheduled maintenance is occurring
- Troubleshooting for businesses and tax practitioners to check if you are experiencing a known issue. If the issue isn't listed, phone us on 13 72 86 and select FKC 3 3.

You can also see our System Metrics chart, which shows how the system has been performing recently. It measures the overall performance, not an individual user's experience.

Practitioner lodgment service

Learn about the practitioner lodgment service (PLS), an electronic channel for client forms, services and reports.

Last updated 25 February 2025

What is the PLS

The practitioner lodgment service (PLS) is our main electronic lodgment channel for tax and BAS agents.

It was developed in partnership with digital service providers using Standard Business Reporting (SBR)-enabled practice software.

We will continue to work with digital service providers to ensure they can deliver new features and enhancements to your PLS software. They will let you know about any updates or changes that affect your software.

The practitioner lodgment service (PLS) is the name given to transactions sent between you and us using your Standard Business Reporting (SBR)-enabled software.

Standard Business Reporting (SBR) is an Australian Government initiative designed to simplify business-to-government reporting.

SBR is built into business and accounting software. It incorporates standard terms used in government legislation and reporting. SBR-enabled software lets you prepare and lodge reports to government agencies directly from tax and business management software.

Using SBR-enabled software, you can prepare and lodge your clients' most common government forms directly from your financial, accounting or payroll software.

You can:

- prepare and lodge selected electronic forms securely and in real time
- receive fast confirmation that we have received your lodgment
- report through a single online channel.

Our Tax agent and BAS agent online services guide shows you what services you can use the PLS for to conduct transactions and resolve queries.

For more information see:

- PLS user guide
- Standard Business Reporting

The cost of software

To use the PLS you will need to purchase SBR-enabled software from a digital service provider. The provider you choose will let you know how to update your software and if there are any additional steps you need to take.

We are not able to comment on what digital service providers will charge for their software products.

However, the ability to lodge to multiple agencies through SBR-enabled software may provide some savings through:

- a reduction in the amount of time spent reporting separately to different government agencies
- the potential to simplify your software requirements to a single software package rather than various products to support your clients.

Working with digital service providers

We work in partnership with digital service providers so they can integrate our tax and superannuation services into your practice management software.

We have specific requirements that digital service providers need to follow. These include:

- registering with us

- meeting our security requirements
- testing their software with us
- using our digital services

To develop our services and products, we give digital services providers the specifications we need, for example, the labels and data we need in a tax return. They then build the product to suit their software and test it with us.

Your digital service provider may ask you to test lodging information for your client using the software. This is called production verification testing.

Production verification testing ensures your practice management software is connecting with our systems and working together to meet system requirements.

We closely monitor valid transactions in a live environment to ensure information quality and security. When participating in the production verification testing process, we may also ask you to validate data we have received.

Testing timeframes will vary depending on the complexity of the service. In general, production verification testing increases during tax time as new forms are made available.

We will continue to work with you and your digital service providers to deliver more services in your software.

PLS authentication

You'll need a secure credential to access the PLS. Your digital service provider will guide you on which steps you need to take depending on what software you use.

You will need to check your credential is up to date:

- Online \(cloud-based\) software
- Desktop software
- Other software and our online services

Find out more about Machine credentials installed via Relationship Authorisation Manager.

Online (cloud-based) software

If you use online SBR-enabled software you don't need to create a credential. Instead, your digital service provider will build it into your software. You must notify us if you are using online software.

If you've been advised by your digital service provider that your software is eligible, follow these instructions to notify us of a hosted SBR-software service.

Find out more about Cloud software authentication and authorisation.

Desktop software

If you use desktop or locally hosted SBR-enabled software you'll need access to a machine credential.

You'll need to check and assign lodgment permissions for you and your staff using Access Manager.

Next steps

- Create a machine credential via Relationship Authorisation Manager
- Assign permissions in access manager .

For more information, see About Access Manager.

Other software and our online services

You will continue to use a secure online credential to authenticate in Online services for agents (see Digital ID and RAM for tax professionals).

Maintaining access to Online services for agents is essential as it allows you access to a range of tools, services and information about clients' records, including their communication history.

You will continue to manage permissions through Access Manager.

Lodging using the PLS

Because the PLS uses real time validation when you lodge, there are certain checks you need to make when using the service:

- Add clients to your client list

- Pre-lodgment checks
- Verifying your client's information
- Error codes
- Transaction and response times
- Lodging prior-year returns

Add clients to your client list

You must add new clients to your client list before lodging.

If you don't add the client to your list beforehand, you won't be able to lodge on the clients' behalf. Your software will be unable to verify your link to the client.

If you have not correctly added a client to your list and you try to lodge for them, you'll receive an authentication error. Common reasons for authentication errors in the PLS include:

- the client isn't on your client list
- the client is attached to a different registered agent number (RAN), if you have multiple RANs
- the TFN or ABN is incorrect
- the client has a cancelled ABN
- you aren't authorised for the relevant role or account
- Access Manager does not have your permissions set.

If the client is appearing on your client list but you're still experiencing an authentication error, remove and re-add the client and try to lodge again.

See also

- PLS user guide – for full details of PLS errors, and recommended actions to take
- Access and permissions

Pre-lodgment checks

Pre-lodgment checks will ensure you have filled the form out correctly and that our system can accept it. Pre-lodge checks will:

- confirm some data in the form against our systems or pre-determined algorithms
- confirm your authority to lodge on the clients' behalf
- improve security around updating client records
- reduce delays in processing submitted forms.

Example: Pre-lodgment check

The PLS includes a check to ensure that account details provided on returns include only valid Australian BSB numbers. This design aims to reduce the likelihood of delays for potential client refunds.

Verifying your client's information

Before you lodge your software will verify your client's identity information with our records to ensure they are correct. Currently, these checks will only occur when you're preparing individual tax returns.

Checking your client's details match our records is an opportunity to confirm or correct the information before you lodge. This prevents delays in processing returns or expected client refunds.

For more information, see Interactive check – PLS user guide.

Error codes

You may receive an error code during your pre-lodge check. These errors can relate to:

- information missing or incorrectly placed on the form
- authentication issues
- problems with the channel or form lodgment.

If the PLS locates an error, your software may not allow the data to transmit until you correct the error.

To check the relevant error and the recommendation, a list of PLS errors is available for:

- Authentication errors
- Form errors
- General errors

Transaction and response times

The expected transaction and response times may vary depending on your software, internet connection and number of lodgments submitted.

If you don't receive a success or fail message after lodging a form, you should check Online services for agents for a lodgment confirmation before trying to lodge again.

Lodging prior-year returns

The PLS allows you to lodge most prior-year returns. However, there are some requirements you may need to meet – see PLS prior-year return service.

Resolving PLS lodgment issues

There are some common errors that can prevent you from lodging for your clients:

- Permissions
- Client list
- Multiple RANs
- Client details match
- Cancelled ABNs

Permissions

You will need to have your permissions set correctly in Access Manager to lodge through the PLS.

For more information, see Access Manager.

Client list

Check you have added new clients to your client list before lodging for them through the PLS. If your client is not on your client list you will receive an error that will prevent lodgment.

For more information, see Add clients to your client list.

Multiple RANs

If you have multiple registered agent numbers (RANs), you must use the RAN attached to the client when you lodge for them.

Check 'Maintain authorisations' in Online services for agents to see which roles or accounts you have the authority to act on for the client.

For more information, see Maintain authorisations.

Client details match

Make sure that the client details are correct, including client identifiers like TFNs and ABNs.

If these details do not match the client record, it will prevent you from lodging.

Cancelled ABNs

If your client previously cancelled their ABN, you may:

- be unable to lodge some forms
- have difficulties requesting their pre-fill information.

For more information, see PLS troubleshooting process.

Where services and information are available online, use those channels before contacting us. Your digital service provider may also be able to support you.

You may need to refer to your software supporting documentation or your digital software provider to determine what prior year returns can be lodged using your software.

When the lodgment has been successfully sent

You will receive an ATO message receipt when the lodgment has been successfully sent. You'll no longer receive an ELS validation/lodgment report or ELS transmission report after you lodge through the service.

To avoid duplicate lodgment and delayed processing, don't attempt to re-lodge a return unless directed to by us, even if the lodgment does not show up on your lodgment report or in Online services for agents.

Checking your lodgments

If you have received a message receipt, your lodgments are still not appearing in your lodgment report or in Online services for agents after 12 days, and we have not called you about your lodgments, contact the registered agent phone line on 13 72 86.

Your SBR-enabled software may provide you with:

- a list of prior year lodgments
- lodgment status for each prior year lodgment (Received/ Not Received/ Return Not Necessary).

If your software does not have the functionality to generate a prior year lodgment list, you can check the lodgment status in Online Services for Agents.

For help using the PLS, see PLS user guide.

Australian Business Register

Tax professionals can access client's Australian business number details online using the Australian Business Register.

Last updated 25 February 2025

You can access your clients' Australian business number (ABN) details online using the Australian Business Register (ABR).

You can use your Digital ID, such as myID, to log in to the Tax professional services section on the ABR website to:

- change secure ABN information (for example, postal address and public officer) and receive confirmation of the change in the same internet session
- apply for a tax file number (TFN)
- register for pay as you go (PAYG) or goods and services tax (GST)
- cancel an ABN.

If your ABN changes

Changes to your tax or BAS agent registration can lead to a change in your ABN.

If this happens, you'll need to make sure:

- your ABN details are updated in the ABR
- the correct ABN is linked to your Digital ID, such as myID in RAM - see myGovID and RAM for tax professionals.

Departing Australia superannuation payment online intermediary application system

The Departing Australia superannuation payment (DASP) online intermediary application system is a secure website.

Last updated 17 March 2025

Access to DASP online

The Departing Australia superannuation payment (DASP) system helps registered tax agents claim a DASP on behalf of your former temporary resident client by:

- confirming whether your client is eligible to apply for a DASP (through an online check with the Department of Home Affairs)
- locating your client's super accounts (whether held by us or a super fund)
- generating an electronic DASP claim (which is sent to the super fund or us, or both)
- removing the requirement to obtain a Certification of Immigration Status from Home Affairs for super fund claims.

You'll need a Digital ID, such as myID set up to a Standard identity strength to log in to the DASP online intermediary application system:

Australian Government

Continue with Digital ID

Digital ID is a safe, secure and convenient way to prove and reuse your ID online.

If you experience problems using the DASP online intermediary application system, email us and provide your client's:

- full name
- date of birth
- email address and telephone number
- passport country
- passport number
- tax file number (TFN) – this is optional, however supplying it assists in locating your account and processing your request
- last Australian address
- super fund name (if known).

Be aware that:

- email is an unsecure channel
- it may take up to 28 days for you to receive a response.

Your client's eligibility for a DASP

Generally, you can apply for a DASP on behalf of a client who meets the following 2 conditions:

- They held a temporary visa that has ceased to be in effect (for example, a visa that has expired or been cancelled).
- They have left Australia.

However, there are different eligibility requirements depending on whether the super being claimed is held by a super fund or by us (ATO-held super).

If your client has departed Australia but their temporary resident visa is still current, they may be able to request an early cancellation of their visa.

Early cancellations are not available for all visa types. They should be requested using the ImmiAccount service provided by Home Affairs.

For more information on visa cancellations, visit the Home Affairs website.

For more information on claiming DASP, see Departing Australia superannuation payment \(DASP\).

Your eligibility to use the system

To be eligible to use the DASP online intermediary application system, you must:

- be either
 - a tax agent with full registration with the Tax Practitioners Board
 - an individual or organisation with a conditional tax agent registration with the Tax Practitioners Board for the purpose of claiming DASP
- apply for an Agreement for departing Australia superannuation payments
- obtain written authority from each client before applying on their behalf
- register this authority with us, by adding the clients to your Client list in Online services for agents
- have a myID and be linked to a business in Relationship Authorisation Manager (RAM). See Accessing online services with Digital ID and RAM.

If you are a registered tax agent, you are not authorised to use:

- the DASP online application system for individuals

- myGov and ATO online services for individuals to claim a DASP on behalf of your client.

Tax treatment of a DASP

A DASP is non-assessable, non-exempt income to your client. However, it is still subject to a final DASP withholding tax.

To find out how a DASP is taxed refer to the DASP tax rates. A higher tax rate may apply to a DASP if a client has held a working holiday maker visa.

The amount of tax is withheld by the payer (either us or a super fund) when the payment is made. Do not include the payment or the tax in your client's tax return.
