

Small Business Super Clearing House scheduled maintenance

Your clients may need to adjust their payment arrangements to ensure their super payments arrive on time.

Published 17 June 2024

The Small Business Super Clearing House will be unavailable between 22 and 23 June 2024, due to scheduled maintenance. You can view the most up-to-date timeframe here .

For the quarter ending 30 June 2024, your clients' superannuation guarantee payments for their eligible employees are due by 28 July. However, as this date falls on a weekend, they have until the next business day.

If your clients plan to claim an income tax deduction for the 2023–24 financial year, super funds will need to receive the payments on or before 30 June 2024. They may need to adjust their plans to ensure payments arrive on time.

If the super funds receive the payments after this date, your clients may not be able to claim an income tax deduction for the 2023–24 financial year.

QC 102570

Our commitment to you

We are committed to providing you with accurate, consistent and clear information to help you understand your rights and entitlements and meet your obligations.

If you follow our information and it turns out to be incorrect, or it is misleading and you make a mistake as a result, we will take that into account when determining what action, if any, we should take.

Some of the information on this website applies to a specific financial year. This is clearly marked. Make sure you have the information for the right year before making decisions based on that information.

If you feel that our information does not fully cover your circumstances, or you are unsure how it applies to you, contact us or seek professional advice.

Copyright notice

© Australian Taxation Office for the Commonwealth of Australia

You are free to copy, adapt, modify, transmit and distribute this material as you wish (but not in any way that suggests the ATO or the Commonwealth endorses you or any of your services or products).