What you can do with this calculator

This calculator is available for the current income year only.

It will help you work out your:

- adjusted taxable income (ATI) amount, which is needed in the calculation of some tax offsets different thresholds may apply depending on the type of offset being claimed
- rebate income for seniors and pensioners tax offset
- income for Medicare levy surcharge purposes to determine liability for Medicare levy surcharge.

Your income for these income tests includes some amounts that you don't include in your assessable income – for example, reportable employer superannuation contributions.
