

Latest information on the SBSCH closure

Stay informed: How the Payday Super changes will affect SBSCH users.

Last updated 1 November 2024

The Australian Government is now in Caretaker.

Announced measures that are not yet law will be subject to consideration by the incoming government. In these circumstances, you need to self-assess based on the current law. If you choose to anticipate new law in line with the announcement and it is not enacted, you may need to seek an amendment.

For more information, see Administrative treatment of retrospective legislation.

The recent government announcement  provided more detail about the implementation of Payday Super.

As part of this reform, from 1 July 2026 the ATO's Small Business Superannuation Clearing House (SBSCH) will be closed.

While this closure is some time away, we're encouraging small businesses to begin considering alternative options to make their super payments ahead of the closure date. These include:

- commercial or super fund clearing houses
- payroll software.

Over the coming months, we'll provide regular updates on the closure of the SBSCH.

For support and information on the SBSCH, you can visit ato.gov.au/SBSCH. You can also speak with your registered tax professional.

You can also find out more about Payday Super.

QC 103332

Our commitment to you

We are committed to providing you with accurate, consistent and clear information to help you understand your rights and entitlements and meet your obligations.

If you follow our information and it turns out to be incorrect, or it is misleading and you make a mistake as a result, we will take that into account when determining what action, if any, we should take.

Some of the information on this website applies to a specific financial year. This is clearly marked. Make sure you have the information for the right year before making decisions based on that information.

If you feel that our information does not fully cover your circumstances, or you are unsure how it applies to you, contact us or seek professional advice.

Copyright notice

© Australian Taxation Office for the Commonwealth of Australia

You are free to copy, adapt, modify, transmit and distribute this material as you wish (but not in any way that suggests the ATO or the Commonwealth endorses you or any of your services or products).