Who must complete a trust income schedule?

You will need to complete the trust income schedule and lodge it with your tax return if you have been made entitled to any distributions from a trust.

You will need to report if you were entitled to distributions from a trust that you report as:

- An individual, lodging by paper, in your individual supplementary tax return at
 - question 13 Partnerships and trusts
 - question 18 Capital gains
 - question 19 Foreign entities
 - question 20 Foreign source income and foreign assets or property.
- An individual, lodging online using myTax – see myTax instructions, Managed fund or trust distributions. The trust income schedule is integrated within myTax.
- A tax agent, lodging for an individual using lodgment software – the trust income schedule will be integrated within the software (see income details schedule). The reporting of managed fund income for individuals has not changed.
- A company, in the company tax return at
 - item 6 Calculation of total profit or loss – Income – labels E or H
 - item 7 Reconciliation to taxable income or loss – label A
 - item 8 Financial and other information – labels G, R, B, U or V.
- A partnership, in the partnership tax return at
 - item 8 Partnerships and trusts
 - item 22 Attributed foreign income
 - item 23 Other assessable foreign source income.
- A trust (excluding CCIV sub-funds and managed investment trusts), in the trust tax return at
 - item 8 Partnerships and trusts
 - item 21 Capital gains
 - item 22 Foreign income
 - item 23 Other assessable foreign source income.

- A self-managed superannuation fund (SMSF), in the SMSF annual return at
 - item 11 Income – labels A, D1, M or U2.
- A small APRA fund (with no more than 6 members) in the fund income tax return at
 - item 10 Income, labels A, D1, N, O, P, Q or U.

Before you start

To complete the trust income schedule, you will need either:

- A statement of distribution or advice from the trustee. You should have a statement for each trust that has made you entitled to an amount.
- A tax statement from your managed fund, either a:
 - Attribution managed investment member annual (AMMA) statement.
 - Standard distribution statement (SDS).

Contact the trustee if you don't have a distribution statement, advice or a tax statement. For more information, see AMMA and standard distribution statement 2024.

Distribution reporting limits

The number of distributions you can report is limited to 30 distributions for individuals and 150 for all other entities.

Individuals reporting more than 30 distributions

The maximum number of distributions you can report as an individual is 30. Where there are more than 30 distributions, consolidate any remaining distributions into the last record.

Order and report your distributions in the trust income schedule as follows:

- Highest value to lowest value.

- If there are more than 30 distributions, aggregate (add together) distribution 30 with all remaining distributions.

Report distribution 30 as 'Consolidation – XX fund records' (with XX being the number of distributions consolidated into the last record). Enter this standard description in the field: Name of distributing trust.

Non-individual entity reporting more than 150 distributions

The maximum number of distributions that you can report for both managed and non-managed trust distributions is 150. Where there are more than 150 distributions, consolidate any remaining distributions into the trust income schedule as follows:

- Highest value to lowest value.
- If there are more than 150 distributions aggregate (add together) as follows:
 - If there are only non-managed fund distributions, aggregate distribution 150 and the remaining distributions.
 - If there are only managed fund distributions, aggregate distribution 150 and the remaining distributions.
 - If there are both non-managed fund and managed fund distributions, record at
 - distribution 149 non-managed funds and the remaining non-managed fund distributions
 - distribution 150 managed funds and the remaining managed fund distributions.

Report distribution 149 and 150, as applicable, with either:

- 'Consolidation – XX non-managed fund records' (with XX being the number of distributions consolidated into the last record). Enter this standard description in the field Name of distributing trust.
- 'Consolidation – XX managed fund records' (with XX being the number of distributions consolidated into the last record). Enter this standard description in the field Name of distributing trust.

Entity details

Distribution details

Declarations

Entity details

Provide your:

- Tax file number (TFN) – print the TFN in the boxes.
- Name for:
 - Individuals – title, family name, given name and any other given names.
 - Non-individuals – name of the company, trust, partnership, fund, or SMSF.
- Address
 - Individuals – residential address.
 - Non-individuals – business address.

These details must match your tax return.

Distribution details

You must complete this section, if required, for each trust distribution you were entitled to. Where there is more than one trust distribution in an income year, repeat this step for each distribution up to the applicable distribution reporting limits.

For each distribution from a trust, use the statement of distribution or advice from the trustee or the tax statement from your managed fund to complete the following:

- Name of distributing trust.
 - For non-managed fund trust distributions this will be the name of the trust as provided by the trustee.
 - For managed fund trust distributions this will be the name of the managed fund or, for consolidated tax statements, the name of the statement issuer.
- Trust identifier
 - For non-managed funds provide either the ABN (if applicable) of the distributing trust or provide the ACN of the corporate trustee (if applicable) of the distributing trust.
 - For managed funds provide the investor number of the distributing trust which should be located on your tax statement from your managed fund.
- Distribution values
 - If you receive a copy of the trust's statement of distribution section from the trust tax return as it relates to your distribution, you can directly transpose the information into the trust income schedule.
 - If you don't receive a copy of the statement of distribution section from the trust tax return, however receive advice from your trustee about your trust distribution, this advice should contain enough detail to help you to complete the trust income schedule. If you need more information ask the trustee.
 - If you receive income from a managed fund, you will generally receive a tax statement. For where these amounts are reported in the trust income schedule, see Managed fund tax statement.

Declarations

How to complete the declarations on the trust income schedule.

Taxpayer's declaration

If you are lodging a paper tax return, the completed trust income schedule must be signed and attached to your tax return.

Before making this declaration, make sure all information required is true and correct in every detail.

Tax agent's declaration

If you are preparing this schedule on behalf of your client, you must sign and date the declaration.

Trust statement of distribution

Managed fund tax statement

Trust statement of distribution

Where a trustee provides you with a copy of the statement of distribution with regards to your specific distribution, the labels on the trust income schedule are an exact match for the statement of distribution.

Where a trustee provides you with advice rather than a copy of the statement of distribution with regards to your specific distribution, the Trust tax return instructions 2024 provides definitions of each income label amount. See, Statement of distribution – item 58.

Managed fund tax statement

Where a managed fund provides you with a tax statement with regards to your specific distribution, the table below shows where to include the amounts on your managed fund tax statement in the trust income schedule.

If a label in the tax statement is not replicated in the schedule and is not mapped as per the table below, that information is not required to be completed within the schedule.

If a label in the schedule is not included in the tax statement, that information is not required to be completed within the schedule.

Where your managed fund provides you with consolidated tax statement, you are not required to disaggregate the income amounts provided by your fund.

Note: If only part of a foreign capital gain is assessable in Australia (for example, the gain is subject to the discount capital gains concessions in Division 115 of the ITAA 1997), you must apportion the foreign tax paid on the gain. This includes where a foreign capital gain is distributed to a unitholder of a managed investment trust (MIT) or attribution managed investment trust (AMIT).

In such circumstances, when calculating your FITO the 'Foreign tax offset applicable to discountable capital gains' at Part C of the Attribution managed investment trust member annual statement and standard distribution statement must be reduced for discounted capital gains. For more information, see Guide to foreign income tax offset rules 2024.

Companies

If you have declared more than one trust distribution in the Distribution details section of your trust income schedule, you will need to add the amounts you report in the trust income schedule labels and report the totals in the company tax return labels below.

For more information about completing the company tax return items and labels, see Company tax return instructions.

The following table provides guidance about where we expect to see trust distributions reported in the company tax return. There are a number of different ways that trust distributions can be reported, if you have reported trust distributions at different labels from the table below, please make sure that you understand the reasons and ensure that the correct tax outcome is being achieved.
