

New super guarantee video series

Last updated 3 August 2023

Do you know that as a not-for-profit organisation you may have to pay super to your employees? Organisations that are income tax exempt are not exempt from paying super guarantee (SG).

A new series of short and informative videos is now available to help you understand your super obligations as an employer.

In these videos you can find information about

- what SG is  and how to pay it
- what happens if SG is not paid  in full, on time and to the right fund
- what a super guarantee charge \(SGC\) statement  is and how to lodge it
- how to calculate the SGC.

For more information check out ato.gov.au/superseries.

QC 73117

Our commitment to you

We are committed to providing you with accurate, consistent and clear information to help you understand your rights and entitlements and meet your obligations.

If you follow our information and it turns out to be incorrect, or it is misleading and you make a mistake as a result, we will take that into account when determining what action, if any, we should take.

Some of the information on this website applies to a specific financial year. This is clearly marked. Make sure you have the information for the right year before making decisions based on that information.

If you feel that our information does not fully cover your circumstances, or you are unsure how it applies to you, contact us or seek professional advice.

Copyright notice

© Australian Taxation Office for the Commonwealth of Australia

You are free to copy, adapt, modify, transmit and distribute this material as you wish (but not in any way that suggests the ATO or the Commonwealth endorses you or any of your services or products).