

Check your GST registration as the year wraps up

As the end-of-year approaches, now's a great time to check if you're still required to be registered for GST.

Published 2 December 2025

If your circumstances have changed, and your business has grown or reduced in size, you may need to register or cancel your GST registration.

Things to check:

- Exceeded the threshold? If your GST turnover is $75,000 or more, you need to register for GST. Once registered, you need to charge GST on taxable sales and issue tax invoices.
- Below the threshold? If your GST turnover is less than $75,000, you can choose to cancel your GST registration. Once cancelled, you can no longer claim GST credits.
- Stopped trading? If you're no longer in business, you need to cancel your GST registration within 21 days of stopping your business activities.
- Taxi or ride-sourcing driver? You must be registered for GST, regardless of your turnover.

You can register or cancel your GST registration through Online services for business or your registered tax or BAS agent.

Need help? We offer free online courses  to help you understand GST. These courses explain when to register, how to report, and more. They're designed for small businesses and are available anytime.

Keep up to date

We have tailored communication channels just for small businesses—so you'll always be up to date with the latest information and changes relevant to you.

Explore more articles in our Small business newsroom.

Subscribe to our free:

- monthly Small business email newsletter
- email notifications about new and updated information on our website – just select the Business and organisations category to get updates relevant to you, including more articles like this one.

QC 105928

Our commitment to you

We are committed to providing you with accurate, consistent and clear information to help you understand your rights and entitlements and meet your obligations.

If you follow our information and it turns out to be incorrect, or it is misleading and you make a mistake as a result, we will take that into account when determining what action, if any, we should take.

Some of the information on this website applies to a specific financial year. This is clearly marked. Make sure you have the information for the right year before making decisions based on that information.

If you feel that our information does not fully cover your circumstances, or you are unsure how it applies to you, contact us or seek professional advice.

Copyright notice

© Australian Taxation Office for the Commonwealth of Australia

You are free to copy, adapt, modify, transmit and distribute this material as you wish (but not in any way that suggests the ATO or the Commonwealth endorses you or any of your services or products).