

Setting up and naming your client's SMSF

Avoid confusion and delay when setting up a client's self-managed super fund (SMSF) by naming the fund correctly.

Published 10 June 2024

We recommend careful consideration when naming a self-managed super fund (SMSF).

If you or your client use a name similar or identical to industry and retail funds regulated by Australian Prudential Regulation Authority when setting up an SMSF, this may result in confusion and delays.

Encourage your clients to choose names unique to their fund. You can check at Super Fund Lookup  whether your client's SMSF name has been used previously or is similar to another fund's name.

Additional information on setting up an SMSF can be found at Register your fund and get an ABN.

QC 102395

Our commitment to you

We are committed to providing you with accurate, consistent and clear information to help you understand your rights and entitlements and meet your obligations.

If you follow our information and it turns out to be incorrect, or it is misleading and you make a mistake as a result, we will take that into account when determining what action, if any, we should take.

Some of the information on this website applies to a specific financial year. This is clearly marked. Make sure you have the information for the right year before making decisions based on that information.

If you feel that our information does not fully cover your circumstances, or you are unsure how it applies to you, contact us or seek professional advice.

Copyright notice

© Australian Taxation Office for the Commonwealth of Australia

You are free to copy, adapt, modify, transmit and distribute this material as you wish (but not in any way that suggests the ATO or the Commonwealth endorses you or any of your services or products).