Part 2—Transitional provisions

70 Definitions

In this Part:

commencement day means the day this Schedule commences.

new Act means the International Tax Agreements Act 1953 as amended by this Schedule.

old Act means the International Tax Agreements Act 1953 as in force before the commencement day.

71 Transitional—amendments operate prospectively

- (1) This item applies to a provision of an agreement that has the force of law on the commencement day because of section 5 of the new Act.
- (2) Despite section 5 of the new Act, for each day before the commencement day, the provision of the agreement continues to have the force of law in accordance with the old Act.

72 Transitional—new description of agreements do not affect their legal operation

- (1) This item applies to a provision of an agreement that:
 - (a) had the force of law under the old Act immediately before the commencement day; and
 - (b) is not covered by section 5 or 5A of the new Act.
- (2) To avoid doubt, the provision continues to have the force of law, on and after the commencement day, under the new Act.

Note: This means the changes made by this Schedule have no effect on the provision's legal operation.
