4. Preamble

Omit the preamble; substitute:

This publication (excluding appendixes) is a public ruling for the purposes of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

A public ruling is an expression of the Commissioner's opinion about the way in which a relevant provision applies, or would apply, to entities generally or to a class of entities in relation to a particular scheme or a class of schemes.

If you rely on this ruling, the Commissioner must apply the law to you in the way set out in the ruling (unless the Commissioner is satisfied that the ruling is incorrect and disadvantages you, in which case the law may be applied to you in a way that is more favourable for you – provided the Commissioner is not prevented from doing so by a time limit imposed by the law). You will be protected from having to pay any underpaid tax, penalty or interest in respect of the matters covered by this ruling if it turns out that it does not correctly state how the relevant provision applies to you.

14. Paragraph 10

Omit the paragraph; substitute:

10. The Prime Minister and the Minister responsible for Science award a number of annual science and science teaching prizes. The Prime Minister's Prizes for Science are a national tribute to excellence and dedicated work and are part of the Government's ongoing commitment to supporting and promoting the important contribution made to our daily lives by Australian innovations in science and technology, and science education. The Prizes are those stated in paragraph 3 of this Ruling.

15. Paragraph 11

- (a) Omit 'excellence in science'; substitute 'a significant advancement of knowledge in the excellence of science'.
- (b) Omit the second sentence; substitute 'The Prize is a tribute to achievement in the advancement of knowledge that contributes to, or has application in other fields of knowledge.'

- (e) Omit from the seventh sentence 'prize'; substitute 'Prize'.
- (f) After the paragraph; insert:

11A. The Prime Minister's Prize for the Commercial Application of Science is the nation's pre-eminent award for a significant technological innovation that has led to the betterment of humanity. The Prize was created to recognise the need to improve Australia's economic performance through better translation of research into commercial outcomes, to celebrate the collaborative achievements of Australian science; and to highlight the contributions of these achievements to our quality of life. It is normally presented to an individual for an outstanding specific achievement or a series of related achievements in any area of science advancing human welfare or benefiting society. In this context, science encompasses the natural, applied and technological sciences, engineering and mathematics. There are no restrictions as to when the achievement was accomplished in the candidate's career. The value of the Prize is $250,000. The Prize may also be awarded jointly to up to four individuals, if the achievement can be clearly shown to be collaborative or team effort. In addition, the Prize may be considered for a lifetime of achievement for an exceptional candidate. Eligibility for this Prize is limited to Australian citizens or those who hold permanent resident status in Australia. Candidates must have a demonstrable link to Australia and should be active in science at the time of nomination.

16. Paragraphs 12 and 13

- (a) Omit the second sentence; substitute:

This Prize is awarded to individuals whose nominated achievement was realised not more than ten years after being awarded their highest degree, the ten years being measured on either a full time or full time equivalent basis. The value of the Prize is $50,000.
- (b) Omit 'should be active in science'; substitute 'at least four years of the candidate's research career must have been spent in Australia'.

17. Paragraph 13

Omit 'Science Minister's'; substitute 'Frank Fenner'.

18. Paragraphs 14 and 15

(a) Omit the second sentence; substitute:

The Prize of $50,000 is shared equally between the teacher and the school, that is, the teacher receives $25,000 and the school where the teacher is employed at the time of nomination receives $25,000.

(b) Omit from the fourth sentence 'prize'; substitute 'Prize'.

(c) After second occurrence of 'science education'; insert 'in the Australian school system'.

19. Paragraph 16

Omit the paragraph; substitute:

16. Nominations for the Prizes are usually invited at the beginning of each year and as details become available they will be announced and promoted on the website shown at paragraph 9 of this Ruling.

20. Paragraph 17

Omit the paragraph; substitute:

17. The Prizes listed at paragraph 3 of this Ruling are not assessable income under sections 6-5, 6-10 or 15-2.
