This Determination, to the extent that it is capable of being a 'public ruling' in terms of Part IVAAA of the Taxation Administration Act 1953, is a public ruling for the purposes of that Part . Taxation Ruling TR 92/1 explains when a Determination is a public ruling and how it is binding on the Commissioner. Unless otherwise stated, this Determination applies to years commencing both before and after its date of issue. However, this Determination does not apply to taxpayers to the extent that it conflicts with the terms of a settlement of a dispute agreed to before the date of issue of the Determination (see paragraphs 21 and 22 of Taxation Ruling TR 92/20).

Taxation Determination

Income tax: to what extent is a registration fee for a Continuing Professional Development (CPD) seminar deductible if a part of the fee represents the cost of food and drink to be provided as part of the seminar?

1. If the registration fee is otherwise deductible under section 8-1 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (ITAA 1997)¹, other than as deductible travel, the extent to which the fee is deductible, according to the terms of Division 32, is:

- (a) if the food and drink does not amount to entertainment, the registration fee is deductible in full (see Taxation Ruling IT 2675 for an explanation of the meaning of the expression, 'entertainment by way of food, drink or recreation', which appears in section 32-10).
- (b) if the food and drink does amount to entertainment but the CPD seminar is a seminar as defined in section 32-65 and the seminar expenses exception in section 32-35 applies, the registration fee is deductible in full. Section 32-35 includes the requirement that the food and drink provided is 'reasonably incidental' to a participant's attendance at the seminar. 'Reasonably incidental' is not defined. Food and drink is reasonably incidental to a CPD seminar if it:
 - (i) is provided for sustenance because of the duration, time of day or location of the seminar;
 - (ii) is provided immediately before, during or immediately following working sessions of the seminar; and
 - (iii) is available to all seminar participants.
- (c) if the food and drink does amount to entertainment but the seminar expenses exception in section 32-35 does not apply (because, for example, the seminar is a business meeting), the registration fee is deductible only to the extent that it does not represent a cost of food and drink. The level at which a registration fee is set is generally determined, at least in part, by the estimated costs of the organiser including the cost of food and drink to be provided. The amount of the registration fee to be disallowed is that amount included in the fee in respect of the food and drink. It is not necessary for a participant to actually consume any food or drink for the fee to be apportioned. It is simply enough that the fee includes an amount in respect of food and drink.

2. The following decision tree is a useful way of establishing the extent to which a registration fee is deductible:

Does registration fee satisfy section 8-1?	No	No part of fee deductible.	Yes
Does some part of registration fee represent cost of food and drink?	No	Fee fully deductible (section 8-1)	Yes
Does food and drink amount to entertainment?	No	Fee fully deductible (section 8-1).	Yes
Is there a seminar (as defined in section 32-65)?	No	Fee deductible in part only (Division 32)	Yes
Does seminar satisfy the exception in section 32-35?	No	Fee deductible in part only (Division 32)	Yes
		Fee fully deductible (Division 32)

Examples

An industry association arranges a series of three seminars for its practising members on current legislative developments. The seminars have been structured as follows:

Description	Seminar 1	Seminar 2	Seminar 3
Seminar Type	Workshop	Twilight	Luncheon
Total Duration	2 hours	5 hours	4 hours
Starting Time	2pm	4pm	11.30am
Refreshments	Afternoon Tea 15 minutes at 3pm	Dinner 1 hour at 6pm	Lunch 1 hour at 1pm
	Tea & Coffee	3 course meal	2 course meal

(The registration fee for Seminar 3 is $50 based on the association's estimated costs of $1000 venue hire, $600 speaker's fee, $400 photocopy and other administration costs and $3000 luncheon costs spread over 100 anticipated registrations - the amount included in each fee for food and drink is therefore $30).

Using the decision tree, the deductibility of each registration fee can be summarised as follows:

Does expense satisfy s8-1	Yes	Yes	Yes
Is food & drink included	Yes	Yes	Yes
Is food & drink 'entertainment'	No	Yes	Yes
Is a seminar as defined	Not applicable	Yes	Yes
Is the s32-35 exception satisfied	Not applicable	Yes	No (seminar only 3 hours)
Allowable	In Full (s8-1)	In Full (Div 32)	$20 only (Div 32)
