- were the beneficiary of the bare trust on the relevant date for determining entitlements to receive the return of share capital made on 29 March 2019.
- hold their Thinksmart share (as represented by the interest in the bare trust and Depositary Interest) on capital account, that is, neither as revenue assets (as defined in section 977-50) nor as trading stock (as defined in subsection 995-1(1)), and
- were not subject to the taxation of financial arrangement rules in Division 230 in relation to gains and losses on their beneficially held share in Thinksmart.

22. TSEL subsequently sold 90% of the shares it held in ClearPay to Afterpay Touch Group Limited (Afterpay) on 24 August 2018. Immediately prior to completion of the sale, the total investment TSEL had made in ClearPay was £2.5M which consisted of £600,000 in share capital and an intercompany loan, waived just prior to settlement, of £1.9M.

23. TSEL received, as consideration for the disposal of 90% of the shares it held in ClearPay to Afterpay, 1,000,000 shares in Afterpay in two tranches on the following dates:

On 5 March 2019 the directors of Thinksmart resolved to return $7,999,751.44 to shareholders consisting of a dividend of 3.772 cents (0.440 cents of which will be fully franked, 3.332 cents of which will be declared as attaching conduit foreign income) and a return of share capital of 3.772 cents per share. The record date for shareholders to be entitled to receive the dividend and return of share capital was 15 March 2019 (Record Date).

27. The dividend was paid on 29 March 2019 to each shareholder and was debited against the retained earnings of Thinksmart.

28. The return of share capital was paid on 29 March 2019 (Payment Date) and debited against the share capital account of Thinksmart.

29. Thinksmart's share capital account (as defined in section 975-300) was not tainted within the meaning of Division 197.

Ruling

Return of share capital not a dividend

30. No part of the return of share capital paid to a beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI is a dividend as defined in subsection 6(1).

Capital gains tax (CGT) consequences

31. CGT event G1 (section 104-135) happened to each beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI when Thinksmart paid them the return of share capital in respect of each Thinksmart share that they owned at the Record Date and continued to own at the Payment Date.

Non-resident shareholders

32. A beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI who was a foreign resident just before CGT event G1 happened will disregard any capital gain made when CGT event G1 happened in relation to a Thinksmart share if that share was not 'taxable Australian property' (section 855-10).

The application of sections 45A, 45B and 45C

33. The Commissioner will not make a determination under section 45A or section 45B that section 45C applies to any part of the return of share capital paid to a beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI.

Appendix 1 – Explanation

❶ This Appendix is provided as information to help you understand how the Commissioner's view has been reached. It does not form part of the binding public ruling.

Return of share capital not a dividend

34. The term 'dividend' is defined in subsection 6(1) and includes any distribution made by a company to any of its shareholders.

35. The payment of the return of share capital was a distribution of money by Thinksmart to its shareholders.

36. However, paragraph (d) of the definition of dividend in subsection 6(1) excludes any:

... moneys paid or credited by a company to a shareholder ... where the amount of the moneys paid or credited, ... is debited against an amount standing to the credit of the share capital account of the company...

37. The term 'share capital account' is defined in section 975-300 as an account which the company keeps of its share capital, or any other account created on or after 1 July 1998 where the first amount credited to the account was an amount of share capital.

38. Subsection 975-300(3) provides that an account is generally taken not to be a share capital account if it is tainted. Thinksmart has confirmed that its share capital account was not tainted within the meaning of Division 197.

39. The return of share capital was debited against the share capital account of Thinksmart. As such, paragraph (d) of the definition of dividend in subsection 6(1) applies and the return of share capital is not a dividend as defined in subsection 6(1).

Capital gains tax (CGT) consequences

40. A CGT asset of a trust to which a beneficiary is absolutely entitled as against the trustee (disregarding any legal disability) is treated for CGT purposes as being the beneficiary's asset (rather than an asset of the trust). Furthermore, any act done in relation to the asset by the trustee is taken to be done by the absolutely entitled beneficiary (rather than the trustee) (section 106-50).

41. The Commissioner's preliminary views in respect of the meaning of the words 'absolutely entitled to a CGT asset as against the trustee of a trust' as used in Parts 3-1 and 3-3 is contained in draft Taxation Ruling TR 2004/D25 Income tax: capital gains: meaning of the words 'absolutely entitled to a CGT asset as against the trustee of a trust' as used in Parts 3-1 and 3-3 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

CGT event G1

42. CGT event G1 happens if a company makes a payment to a shareholder in respect of a share they own in the company, some or all of the payment (the non-assessable part) is not a dividend, or an amount that is taken to be a dividend under section 47, and the payment is not included in the shareholder's assessable income (subsection 104-135).

43. CGT event G1 happened to a resident beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI when Thinksmart made the return of share capital to them in respect of a Thinksmart share that they owned at the relevant Record Date and continued to own at the relevant Payment Date (section 104-135). The non-assessable part in respect of the share capital return is 3.772 cents per share.

44. A resident beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI will make a capital gain under CGT event G1 if the non-assessable part is more than the cost base of the beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI's Thinksmart share. The amount of the capital gain is equal to the excess (subsection 104-135(3)).

45. If a resident beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI makes a capital gain from CGT event G1 happening, the cost base and reduced cost base of the beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI's Thinksmart share is reduced to nil. A beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI cannot make a capital loss when CGT event G1 happens (Note 1 to subsection 104-135(3)).

46. A capital gain made when CGT event G1 happened is eligible to be treated as a discount capital gain under Division 115 provided that the beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI acquired their Thinksmart share at least 12 months before the Payment Date (subsection 115-25(1)) and the other conditions are satisfied in Division 115.

47. If the non-assessable part is not more than the cost base of the resident beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI's Thinksmart share, the cost base and reduced cost base of the share are reduced (but not below nil) by the amount of the non-assessable part (subsection 104-135(4)).

48. A beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI that is either a foreign resident whose Thinksmart share is taxable Australian property, or who is a temporary resident, must meet further conditions to be eligible to treat the capital gain as a discount capital gain under Division 115.

Non-resident shareholders

49. Under subsection 855-10(1), an entity disregards a capital gain or capital loss made from a CGT event if:

- just before the CGT event happened, the entity is a foreign resident, or the trustee of a foreign trust for CGT purposes; and

- the CGT event happens in relation to a CGT asset that is not 'taxable Australian property'.

50. The term 'taxable Australian property' is defined in the table in section 855-15. The table sets out five categories of CGT assets:

Item 1	taxable Australian real property
Item 2	an indirect Australian real property interest not covered by item 5
Item 3	a CGT asset used at any time in carrying on a business through a permanent establishment in Australia and which is not covered by item 1, 2 or 5
Item 4	an option or right to acquire a CGT asset covered by item 1, 2 or 3; and
Item 5	a CGT asset that is covered by subsection 104-165(3) (choosing to disregard a gain or loss on ceasing to be an Australian resident).

51. A beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI, being a foreign resident, or the trustee of a foreign resident trust for CGT purposes, cannot disregard a capital gain or capital loss made when CGT event G1 happened to their Thinksmart share under subsection 855-10(1) if the Thinksmart share:

- was an indirect Australian real property interest (item 2 of the table in section 855-15), or
- had been used at any time by them in carrying on a business through a permanent establishment in Australia (item 3 of the table in section 855-15), or
- was covered by subsection 104-165(3) (item 5 of the table in section 855-15).

The application of sections 45A, 45B and 45C

52. Sections 45A and 45B are two anti-avoidance provisions which, if they apply, allow the Commissioner to make a determination that section 45C applies to treat all or part of the return of share capital received by a beneficiary of a Thinksmart DI as an unfranked dividend paid by the company out of profits.

Section 45A – streaming of dividends and capital benefits

53. Section 45A applies where capital benefits are streamed to some shareholders (the Advantaged Shareholders), who would derive a greater benefit from the receipt of capital than other shareholders (Disadvantaged Shareholders) and the Disadvantaged Shareholders received, or are likely to receive, dividends.

54. A reference to the 'provision of a capital benefit to a shareholder in a company' is defined in paragraph 45A(3)(b) to include the distribution to the shareholder of share capital.

55. Although a 'capital benefit' was provided to Thinksmart shareholders, the circumstances of the return of share capital indicate that there was no streaming of capital benefits to some Thinksmart shareholders and dividends to other Thinksmart shareholders.

56. Accordingly, the Commissioner will not make a determination under subsection 45A(2) that section 45C applies in relation to the whole, or a part, of the return of share capital.

Section 45B – scheme to provide capital benefits

57. Section 45B applies where certain capital payments are made to shareholders in substitution for dividends. In broad terms, subsection 45B(2) applies where:

- there is a scheme under which a person is provided with a capital benefit by a company (paragraph 45B(2)(a)); and
- under the scheme, a taxpayer (relevant taxpayer), who may or may not be the person provided with the capital benefit, obtains a tax benefit (paragraph 45B(2)(b)); and
- having regard to the relevant circumstances of the scheme, it would be concluded that the person, or one of the persons, who entered into or carried out the scheme or any part of the scheme did so for a purpose (whether or not the dominant purpose but not including an incidental purpose), of enabling a taxpayer (relevant taxpayer) to obtain a tax benefit (paragraph 45B(2)(c)).

58. The return of share capital satisfies the conditions in paragraphs 45B(2)(a) and 45B(2)(b). However, having regard to the relevant circumstances of each scheme (comprising each return of share capital paid) set out in subsection 45B(8), it cannot be concluded that the scheme was entered into or carried out for a more than incidental purpose of enabling Thinksmart shareholders to obtain a tax benefit.

59. Accordingly, the Commissioner will not make a determination under subsection 45B(3) that section 45C applies to the whole, or a part, of the payment of the return of share capital.
