<sup>10A</sup> Subsection 276-85(6) applies if the member (not being a member in the capacity of trustee of another trust) has a determined member component of the character of assessable income under subsection 207-20(1). Where the AMIT is itself a beneficiary of another AMIT or non-AMIT trust which receives the franked distribution, the character of the trust component to the AMIT will be of a franked distribution and franking offset. Any franking credit gross up component attributable to this distribution will be of a character of assessable income under subsection 207-20(1).

- (b) After the paragraph; insert:

Example 4A: franking credit gross-up offset by deductions

28A. The trustee of an AMIT receives a franked distribution of $70,000 from a company. The franking credit on the distribution is $30,000. In working out the trust components of amounts having the character of a franked distribution and franking credit gross up, the trustee allocates deductions against these two amounts<sup>10B</sup>. After subtracting the deductions, the trust components are $63,000 and $27,000 respectively. The trustee attributes $6,300 (franked distribution) and $2,700 (franking credit gross-up) to Member A. While the franking credit gross-up is $2,700, the potential tax offset available to member A is $3,000, representing the member's share of the franking credits on the distribution. The availability of the tax offset would depend on whether the tax offset conditions in Division 207 have been satisfied, such as the qualified person requirement.<sup>10C</sup>

<sup>10B</sup> Whether deductions are properly allocable against assessable income having a character of franked distributions and franking credits on the distribution must be determined by reference to the facts and circumstances. Guidelines relating to the allocation of deductions are contained in Law Companion Guideline LCG 2015/8 Attribution Managed Investment Trusts: the rules for working out trust components – allocation of deductions.

<sup>10C</sup> See paragraphs 29 to 33 of this Guideline.

15. Paragraph 34

Omit 'draft'.

16. Paragraph 38

After 'paid)'; insert:

<sup>13A</sup> Determined trust components with a character of foreign source income on which no foreign tax is paid also have a character of foreign source income. This may be relevant to the calculation of a foreign income tax offset limit under section 770-75.

17. Paragraph 47

After the paragraph; insert:

---

<sup>10B</sup> Whether deductions are properly allocable against assessable income having a character of franked distributions and franking credits on the distribution must be determined by reference to the facts and circumstances. Guidelines relating to the allocation of deductions are contained in Law Companion Guideline LCG 2015/8 Attribution Managed Investment Trusts: the rules for working out trust components – allocation of deductions.
