Goods and Services Tax Advice

Goods and services tax: Are sales of section 100-5 vouchers, commonly referred to as face value vouchers (FVVs), to retail outlets and subsequent sales of the same vouchers to customers taxable supplies?

Preamble

This document is a ruling for the purposes of section 37 of the Taxation Administration Act 1953. It illustrates the principles contained in Goods and Services Tax Ruling GSTR 2003/5 on vouchers. You can rely on the information presented in this document, which provides advice on the operation of the GST system.

Answer

No. The sales of section 100-5 vouchers, commonly referred to as face value vouchers (FVVs), to retail outlets and their subsequent sale to customers are not taxable supplies under subsection 100-5(1) of the A New Tax System (Goods and Services Tax) Act 1999 (GST Act).

Background

An entity sells FVVs to various retail outlets that sell them to their customers. The entity may or may not be the supplier of the goods and services made on redemption of the FVV

Explanation

A FVV may be supplied through various entities before it comes into the possession of the holder who uses it to obtain supplies. Each supply of a FVV between intermediate entities is a supply to which section 100-5 applies.

Division 100 provides that, except where subsection 100-5(2) applies, the supplies of the FVVs by the entity to a retail outlet and by the retail outlet to a customer for consideration are not taxable supplies. No GST is payable for those supplies. GST is payable by the supplier of the supplies made on redemption of the FVV if those supplies are taxable supplies.
