Addendum

Goods and Services Tax Ruling

Goods and services tax: in the application of items 2 and 3 and paragraph (b) of item 4 in the table in subsection 38-190(1) of the A New Tax System (Goods and Services Tax) Act 1999:

- when is a ‘non-resident’ or other ‘recipient’ of a supply ‘not in Australia when the thing supplied is done’?
- when is ‘an entity that is not an Australian resident’ ‘outside Australia when the thing supplied is done’?

This Addendum is a public ruling for the purposes of the Taxation Administration Act 1953. It amends Goods and Services Tax Ruling GSTR 2004/7 to reflect:

- changes to section 38-190 of the A New Tax System (Goods and Services Tax) Act 1999 as a result of the Tax and Superannuation Laws Amendment (2016 Measures No. 1) Act 2016, and
- the replacement of Goods and Services Tax Ruling GSTR 2000/3 Goods and services tax: supplies connected with Australia (which was withdrawn on 4 September 2019) by Goods and Services Tax Ruling GSTR 2019/1 Goods and services tax: supply of anything other than goods or real property connected with the indirect tax zone (Australia).

This Addendum applies both before and after its date of issue, subject to the commencement and application provisions of each amending Act or Regulation to which it refers.

GSTR 2004/7 is amended as follows:

1. Paragraph 1

After the word ‘Australia’, insert new footnote A1:

^{A1} From 1 July 2015, the term ‘Australia’ was replaced with the term ‘indirect tax zone’ by the Treasury Legislation Amendment (Repeal Day) Act 2015. Where the term ‘Australia’ is used in this Ruling, it is referring to the ‘indirect tax zone’ as defined in section 195-1.

Division 57

137. Division 57 generally provides that a resident agent that makes a taxable supply or taxable importation^{32A} on behalf of a non-resident is liable for the GST payable on those supplies or importations. Further, a resident agent is entitled to the input tax credits on creditable acquisitions and creditable importations made through them by a non-resident. As explained in the Explanatory Memorandum³³, the reason for this is that if a non-resident is acting through an agent, there is someone in the Australian jurisdiction on whom liability can be placed. Placing the liability on someone who is in Australia decreases the compliance risk.

137A. A resident agent is not liable to pay GST on behalf of a non-resident if the non-resident makes taxable supplies or taxable importations through an enterprise that the non-resident carries on in Australia.^{33A}

137B. A non-resident agent is also not liable to pay GST on behalf of a non-resident if the supply is only a taxable supply because of the application of the reverse charge rules under section 84-5.

137C. The non-resident and the resident agent can agree in writing under section 57-7 to 'opt in' to the agency rules to make the resident agent the liable entity rather than the recipient (the reverse charge rules in Division 84 do not apply) in the following circumstances:

- the non-resident makes a supply that is not connected to Australia because of subsection 9-26(1);
- the agreement must apply to all supplies made by the non-resident through the resident agent; and
- if the recipient of the supply is an Australian-based business recipient, the recipient is given notice in the approved form.^{33B}

- (b) In the first sentence after the words 'taxable importation', insert new footnote 32A:

^{32A} Refer to paragraphs 39 to 40 and 65 to 70 of Goods and Services Tax Ruling GSTR 2003/15 Goods and services tax: importation of goods into Australia.

If in any given case all other factors indicate that the business carried on by the representative of a corporation in a particular country was clearly the business of the corporation (rather than that of its representative), it could make no difference that the corporation required him to take its instructions before he actually concluded contracts on its behalf; the existence of such a requirement would not by itself prevent the corporation from being present in the country concerned and thus from being amenable to the jurisdiction of its courts.

The supply of training made to Asia Tech is provided to another entity in Australia, the employees. However, subsection 38-190(3) does not apply to make the supply taxable, as the provision of training to the employees is solely for Asia Tech's business activities and is not a non-deductible expense under section 69-5.¹⁰³ Therefore, the supply of computer training is GST-free under item 2.

(b) At the end of the second sentence, insert new footnote 103:

¹⁰³ Subparagraph 38-190(3)(c)(iii), which was inserted with effect from 1 July 2016 and is applicable in relation to working out net amounts for tax periods starting on or after 1 October 2016. Prior to this amendment, the supply in this example would not have been GST-free under table item 2.
