OTHER RULINGS ON TOPIC IT 2048, IT 2088

RULING

This ruling updates Taxation Ruling No. IT 2088 and replaces, for the 1984/85 income year, the amounts up to which certain claims for deduction may, in the general run of cases, be accepted without the need for verification.

2. The update has been made in the light of representations made to this office by employee unions, groups, associations, etc. and of the views of Branch Offices.

3. As was the case with Taxation Ruling No. IT 2088, it is necessary to stress that the practice of setting limits up to which claims for income tax deductions may be allowed without the need for verification is not to be taken as authority for taxpayers to claim income tax deductions in excess of expenditure actually incurred. If a taxpayer has not incurred expenditure in the year ended 30 June 1985 up to the amounts set out in the attached schedule, his or her claim for income tax deductions should be limited accordingly. The setting of the various amounts does not in any way restrict the Commissioner's right to require a taxpayer to provide substantiation of claims for income tax deductions.

4. On the other hand, where a taxpayer has incurred deductible expenditure in excess of the limit, he or she is, of course, entitled to claim as a deduction the amount actually expended. However, in that case, it would be expected that the taxpayer would be able to substantiate his or her claim in full with receipts, invoices or other documentary evidence.

COMMISSIONER OF TAXATION
11 June 1985
