6 At the end of subsection 40-35(1)

Add:

Note: Subsection (6) also applies to a case where you did not have unrecouped expenditure at 30 June 2001: see subsection (8).

7 At the end of section 40-35

Add:

- (7) If section 40-115 of the new Act applies, or section 40-125 of the new Act would, apart from this subsection, apply, to the real asset referred to in subsection (5) of this section, then:
- (a) if the real asset is split into 2 or more depreciating assets and you stop holding, or stop using for a taxable purpose, one or more but not all of the assets into which it is split— subsection (5) does not apply to that asset or assets into which it is split that you continue to hold and continue to use for a taxable purpose; or
 - (b) if the real asset is merged into another depreciating asset— section 40-125 does not apply to the asset into which it is merged while you continue to hold it.
- (8) Subsection (6) also applies to a case where:
- (a) you did not have an amount of unrecouped expenditure under Division 330 of the former Act at the end of 30 June 2001, but you had an amount of unrecouped expenditure under that Division before 30 June 2001; and
 - (b) that expenditure relates to property that is not a depreciating asset (the other property); and
 - (c) after that day, the other property is disposed of, lost or destroyed, or you stop using it for a taxable purpose.

8 After section 40-35

Insert:

40-37 Post-30 June 2001 mining expenditure

- (1) This section applies to you if:

- (a) you incur expenditure after 30 June 2001 under a contract entered into before that day; and
 - (b) the expenditure would have been allowable capital expenditure, and you could have deducted an amount for it, under Division 330 of the former Act if you had incurred it before 1 July 2001; and
 - (c) the expenditure does not relate to a depreciating asset.
- (2) Division 40 of the new Act applies to the expenditure as if it were a depreciating asset (the notional asset) you hold on this basis:
- (a) it has a cost at the time you incur the expenditure equal to the amount of the expenditure; and
 - (b) in applying the formula in section 40-75 of the new Act for the income year in which you incur the expenditure—you use the adjustments in subsection 40-75(3) of the new Act; and
 - (c) it is taken to be used for a taxable purpose when you incur the expenditure; and
 - (d) it has an effective life worked out under subsection (3); and
 - (e) you must use the prime cost method.

Note: There are special rules for entities that have substituted accounting periods: see section 40-65.

- (3) The effective life of the notional asset at the start of an income year (present income year) for which you are working out its decline in value is:
- (a) for an amount of expenditure incurred in carrying on eligible mining operations other than in the course of petroleum mining—the lesser of 10 and the number equal to the number of whole years in the estimated life of the mine, or proposed mine, on the mining property, or, if there is more than one such mine, of the mine that has the longest estimated life, as at the end of the present income year; or
 - (b) for an amount of expenditure incurred in carrying on eligible mining operations in the course of petroleum mining—the lesser of 10 and the number equal to the number of whole years in the estimated life of the petroleum field or proposed petroleum field as at the end of the present income year; or
 - (c) for an amount of expenditure incurred in carrying on eligible quarrying operations—the lesser of 20 and the number equal to the number of whole years in the estimated life of the quarry, or proposed quarry, on the quarrying property, or, if there is more than one such quarry, of the quarry that has the longest estimated life, as at the end of the present income year.

- (4) Sections 40-95 and 40-110 of the new Act do not apply to the expenditure.
- (5) If both of these paragraphs apply:
- (a) any of the expenditure referred to in subsection (1) relates to property that is not a depreciating asset (the other property);
 - (b) in an income year (the cessation year), the other property is disposed of, lost or destroyed, or you stop using it for a taxable purpose;

there is an additional decline in value of the notional asset for the cessation year equal to so much of the notional asset's adjustable value as relates to the other property.

- (6) If the other property is disposed of, lost or destroyed, or you stop using it for a taxable purpose, you must include in your assessable income:
- (a) if the other property is sold for a price specific to that property—that price, less the expenses of the sale (to the extent the expenses are reasonably attributable to selling that particular property); or
 - (b) if the other property is sold with additional property without a specific price being allocated to it—the part of the total sale price, less the reasonably attributable expenses of the sale, that is reasonably attributable to selling the other property; or
 - (c) if the other property is lost or destroyed—the amount or value received or receivable under an insurance policy or otherwise for the loss or destruction; or
 - (d) if you own the other property and you stop using it for a taxable purpose—its market value at that time; or
 - (e) if you do not own the property and you stop using it for a taxable purpose—a reasonable amount.

However, the amount included is reduced to the extent (if any) that it is also included under subsection 40-830(6) of the new Act.

40-38 Mining cash bidding payments

- (1) This section applies to expenditure you incur, under a contract entered into before 30 June 2001, if:
 - (a) the expenditure would have been a mining cash bidding payment under Subdivision 330-D of the former Act; and
 - (b) either:
 - (i) you incurred the expenditure before that day but the grant of the mining authority concerned occurred on a day (the start day) after 30 June 2001; or
 - (ii) the grant of the mining authority concerned occurred before 30 June 2001 but you incurred the expenditure on a day (also the start day) after 30 June 2001.
- (2) Division 40 of the new Act applies to the expenditure as if it were a depreciating asset (the notional asset) you hold on this basis:
 - (a) it has a cost at the start day equal to the amount of the expenditure; and
 - (b) in applying the formula in section 40-75 of the new Act for the income year in which the start day occurs—you use the adjustments in subsection 40-75(3) of the new Act; and
 - (c) it is taken to be used for a taxable purpose on the start day; and
 - (d) it has an effective life worked out under subsection (3); and
 - (e) you must use the prime cost method.

Note: There are special rules for entities that have substituted accounting periods: see section 40-65.
- (3) The effective life of the notional asset at the start of an income year (present income year) for which you are working out its decline in value is:
 - (a) for an amount of expenditure incurred in carrying on eligible mining operations other than in the course of petroleum mining—the lesser of 10 and the number equal to the number of whole years in the estimated life of the mine, or proposed mine, on the mining property, or, if there is more than one such mine, of the mine that has the longest estimated life, as at the end of the present income year; or
 - (b) for an amount of expenditure incurred in carrying on eligible mining operations in the course of petroleum mining—the lesser of 10 and the number equal to the number of whole years in the estimated life of the petroleum field or proposed petroleum field as at the end of the present income year.

- (4) Sections 40-95 and 40-110 of the new Act do not apply to the expenditure.
- (5) If both of these paragraphs apply:
- (a) any of the expenditure referred to in subsection (1) relates to a depreciating asset (the real asset);
 - (b) in an income year (the cessation year) you stop holding the real asset, or stop using it for a taxable purpose;
- there is an additional decline in value of the notional asset for the cessation year equal to so much of the notional asset's adjustable value as relates to the real asset and has not been taken into account in working out the amount of a balancing adjustment in relation to the real asset.
- (6) If section 40-115 of the new Act applies, or section 40-125 of the new Act would, apart from this subsection, apply, to the real asset referred to in subsection (5) of this section, then:
- (a) if the real asset is split into 2 or more depreciating assets and you stop holding, or stop using for a taxable purpose, one or more but not all of the assets into which it is split— subsection (5) does not apply to that asset or assets into which it is split that you continue to hold and continue to use for a taxable purpose; or
 - (b) if the real asset is merged into another depreciating asset— section 40-125 does not apply to the asset into which it is merged while you continue to hold it.

9 At the end of section 40-40

Add:

- (6) If section 40-115 of the new Act applies, or section 40-125 of the new Act would, apart from this subsection, apply, to the real asset referred to in subsection (4) of this section, then:
- (a) if the real asset is split into 2 or more depreciating assets and you stop holding, or stop using for a taxable purpose, one or more but not all of the assets into which it is split— subsection (4) does not apply to that asset or assets into which it is split that you continue to hold and continue to use for a taxable purpose; or

- (b) if the real asset is merged into another depreciating asset—section 40-125 does not apply to the asset into which it is merged while you continue to hold it.

10 After section 40-40

Insert:

40-43 Post-30 June 2001 transport expenditure

- (1) This section applies to you if:
 - (a) you incur expenditure after 30 June 2001 under a contract entered into before that day; and
 - (b) the expenditure would have been transport capital expenditure in respect of a transport facility, and you could have deducted an amount for it, under Subdivision 330-H of the former Act if you had incurred it before 1 July 2001 and you had started to use the facility for a qualifying purpose before 1 July 2001; and
 - (c) the expenditure does not relate to a depreciating asset.
- (2) Division 40 of the new Act applies to the expenditure as if it were a depreciating asset (the notional asset) you hold on this basis:
 - (a) it has a cost at the time you incur the expenditure equal to the amount of the expenditure; and
 - (b) in applying the formula in section 40-75 of the new Act for your income year in which you incur the expenditure—you use the adjustments in subsection 40-75(3) of the new Act; and
 - (c) it is taken to have been used for a taxable purpose when you incur the expenditure; and
 - (d) it has an effective life when you incur the expenditure equal to the years remaining for the expenditure under section 330-395 of the former Act; and
 - (e) you must use the prime cost method.

Note: There are special rules for entities that have substituted accounting periods: see section 40-65.

- (3) Sections 40-95 and 40-110 of the new Act do not apply to the expenditure.
- (4) If both of these paragraphs apply:
- (a) any of the expenditure referred to in subsection (1) relates to property that is not a depreciating asset (the other property);
 - (b) in an income year (the cessation year), the other property is disposed of, lost or destroyed, or you stop using it for a taxable purpose;
- there is an additional decline in value of the notional asset for the cessation year equal to so much of the notional asset's adjustable value as relates to the other property.

- (5) If the other property is disposed of, lost or destroyed, or you stop using it for a taxable purpose, you must include in your assessable income:
- (a) if the other property is sold for a price specific to that property—that price, less the expenses of the sale (to the extent the expenses are reasonably attributable to selling that particular property); or
 - (b) if the other property is sold with additional property without a specific price being allocated to it—the part of the total sale price, less the reasonably attributable expenses of the sale, that is reasonably attributable to selling the other property; or
 - (c) if the other property is lost or destroyed—the amount or value received or receivable under an insurance policy or otherwise for the loss or destruction; or
 - (d) if you own the other property and you stop using it for a taxable purpose—its market value at that time; or
 - (e) if you do not own the property and you stop using it for a taxable purpose—a reasonable amount.

However, the amount included is reduced to the extent (if any) that it is also included under subsection 40-830(6) of the new Act.

40-44 No additional decline in certain cases

- (1) Despite subsections 40-35(5), 40-38(5) and 40-40(4), there is no additional decline in the value of the notional asset referred to in those subsections if:

- (a) apart from this section, subsection 40-35(5), 40-38(5) or 40-40(4) would apply because the real asset referred to in that subsection is disposed of; and
 - (b) roll-over relief is chosen under subsection 40-340(3) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 for the disposal.
- (2) Instead, the cost to the transferee of that real asset is the sum of:
- (a) the adjustable value of that real asset; and
 - (b) the adjustable value of the notional asset referred to in subsection 40-35(5), 40-38(5) or 40-40(4);
- just before the disposal.

11 After subsection 40-77(1)

Insert:

- (1A) Division 40 of the new Act does not apply to a renewal or extension of a mining, quarrying or prospecting right that you started to hold before 1 July 2001.
- (1B) Subsection (1) applies to a mining, quarrying or prospecting right (the new right) that you start to hold on or after 1 July 2001 as if you had started to hold the new right before that day if:
 - (a) you started to hold another mining, quarrying or prospecting right before that day; and
 - (b) the other right ends on or after that day; and
 - (c) the new right and the other right relate to the same area, or any difference in area is not significant.
- (1C) Division 40 of the new Act does not apply to a mining, quarrying or prospecting right if:
 - (a) a company (the original holder) started to hold the right before 1 July 2001; and
 - (b) the right is transferred after that day to another company where:
 - (i) the other company is a member of the same wholly-owned group as the original holder and was a member of that group just before that day; and
 - (ii) the right was held in the period between that day and the time of the transfer by a company or companies that were members of that group on that day and at the time of the transfer.

12 Paragraph 40-77(2)(a)

After “associate of yours”, insert “(except a company that is a member of the same wholly-owned group)”.

13 At the end of section 40-77

Add:

- (4) Your assessable income includes an amount if:
- (a) after 1 July 2001, you stop holding a mining, quarrying or prospecting right that you started to hold before that day; and
 - (b) you have deducted or can deduct an amount for it under Subdivision 330-C in relation to Subdivision 330-D or 330-E of the former Act.

The amount included is the amount you have deducted or can deduct.

- (5) Your assessable income also includes an amount if:
- (a) after 1 July 2001, you stop holding a mining, quarrying or prospecting right that you started to hold before that day; and
 - (b) because of section 40-35 or 40-38 of this Act, you have deducted or can deduct an amount for a notional asset that relates to expenditure on the right under Division 40 of the new Act.

The amount included is the amount you have deducted or can deduct.

- (6) Division 110 of the new Act applies as if an amount included in assessable income under subsection (4) or (5) of this section were the reversal of a deduction under a provision of the new Act outside Parts 3-1 and 3-3 and Division 243.

- (7) An amount that would be included in your assessable income under subsection 40-285(1) of the new Act in respect of a mining, quarrying or prospecting right is reduced by an amount worked out under subsection (8) if:

- (a) you acquired the right from an associate (except a company that is a member of the same wholly-owned group) on or after 1 July 2001; and
 - (b) the associate started to hold the right before that day.
- (8) The amount is reduced (but not below zero) by the difference between the capital cost that you incurred after that day and the amount to which the cost of the right is limited under subsection (2) of this section.

14 At the end of Subdivision 40-B

Add:

40-95 Accelerated depreciation for split or merged plant

- (1) This section applies to a depreciating asset that is plant if:

- (1) These are not assessable income and are not *exempt income:
 - (a) a *mining payment made to a *distributing body;

- (2) A payment:
 - (a) made to a *distributing body; or is not assessable income and is not *exempt income if the payment is made by a *distributing body out of a *mining payment that it has received.

- (3) A payment made to a *distributing body by another distributing body, out of a *mining payment received by the other distributing body, is taken to be a mining payment for the purposes of:

 - (c) you cannot deduct the repayment for any income year.
- (2) It does not matter if:
 - (a) you received the amount as part of a larger amount; or
