Division 93—Time limit on entitlements to input tax credits

93-1 What this Division is about

Your entitlements to input tax credits for creditable acquisitions cease unless you include them in your net amounts within 4 years.

However, this time limit might not apply to any such entitlements relating to amounts that the Commissioner has notified to you, that arise as a result of fraud or evasion, or that you have notified to the Commissioner.

Note: These amounts are dealt with in sections 105-50 and 105-55 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

93-5 Time limit on entitlements to input tax credits

- (1) You cease to be entitled to an input tax credit for a *creditable acquisition to the extent that you have not taken it into account in working out your *net amount for:
 - (a) the tax period to which the input tax credit would be attributable under subsection 29-10(1) or (2); or
 - (b) any other tax period for which you give to the Commissioner a *GST return during the period of 4 years after the day on which you were required to give to the Commissioner a GST return for the tax period referred to in paragraph (a).

Note: Section 93-10 sets out circumstances in which your entitlement to the input tax credit does not cease under this section.

- (2) This section has effect despite section 11-20 (which is about who is entitled to input tax credits for creditable acquisitions).

93-10 Exceptions to time limit on entitlements to input tax credits

Commissioner has notified you of excess or refund etc.

- (1) You do not cease under section 93-5 to be entitled to an input tax credit to the extent that:
 - (a) the input tax credit arises out of circumstances that also gave rise to the whole or a part of:

Schedule 1 Time limit on entitlements to input tax credits and fuel tax credits

Note 1: Section 105-50 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 deals with the time limit within which the Commissioner can recover indirect tax amounts, and section 105-55 in Schedule 1 to that Act deals with the time limit within which you can claim amounts relating to indirect tax.

Note 2: Section 93-15 of this Act may preclude this subsection from applying to the input tax credit, in which case section 93-5 of this Act will apply.

Excess relates to amount avoided by fraud or evaded

- (2) You do not cease under section 93-5 to be entitled to an input tax credit to the extent that the input tax credit arises out of circumstances that also gave rise to:
- (a) the whole or a part of an amount in relation to which paragraph 105-50(3)(b) in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 applies; or
 - (b) an amount of an excess, in relation to which that paragraph applies.

Note 1: Section 105-50 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 deals with the time limit within which the Commissioner can recover indirect tax amounts.

Note 2: Section 93-15 of this Act may preclude this subsection from applying to the input tax credit, in which case section 93-5 of this Act will apply.

You have notified the Commissioner of refund etc.

- (3) You do not cease under section 93-5 to be entitled to an input tax credit to the extent that:
- (a) the input tax credit arises out of circumstances that also gave rise to the whole or a part of a refund, other payment or credit in relation to which paragraph 105-55(1)(a) in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 applies; and

- (b) you gave to the Commissioner the notice referred to in that paragraph not later than 4 years after the end of the tax period to which the credit would be attributable under subsection 29-10(1) or (2) of this Act.

Division 133—Providing additional consideration under gross-up clauses

133-1 What this Division is about

You may have a decreasing adjustment for an acquisition that you made if, to take account of a GST liability that the supplier is subsequently found to have, you provide additional consideration at a time when you can no longer claim an input tax credit.

133-5 Decreasing adjustments for additional consideration provided under gross-up clauses

- (1) You have a decreasing adjustment if:
- (a) you made an acquisition on the basis that:
 - (i) it was not a *creditable acquisition because the supply to which the acquisition relates was not a *taxable supply; or
 - (ii) it was *partly creditable because the supply to which the acquisition relates was only partly a taxable supply; and
 - (b) you provided *additional consideration for the acquisition in compliance with a contractual obligation that required you, or had the effect of requiring you, to provide additional consideration if:
 - (i) in a case where subparagraph (a)(i) applies—the supply was later found to be a taxable supply, or to be partly a taxable supply; or
 - (ii) in a case where subparagraph (a)(ii) applies—the supply was later found to be a taxable supply to a greater extent; and
 - (c) GST on the supply has not ceased to be payable (other than as a result of its payment); and
 - (d) at the time you provided the additional consideration, you were no longer entitled to an input tax credit for the acquisition.

Note: Section 93-5 may provide a time limit on your entitlement to an input tax credit.

- (2) The amount of the *decreasing adjustment is the difference between:
- (a) what would have been the *previously attributed input tax credit amount for the acquisition if:
 - (i) the *additional consideration for the acquisition had been provided as part of the original *consideration for the acquisition; and
 - (ii) in a case where you have not held a *tax invoice for the acquisition—you held such an invoice; and
 - (iii) subsection 29-10(4) did not apply in relation to the acquisition; and
 - (b) the previously attributed input tax credit amount.
- (3) To avoid doubt, additional consideration for an acquisition includes a part of the *consideration for the acquisition that:
- (a) relates to the amount of GST payable on the *taxable supply to which the acquisition relates; and
 - (b) at the time of the acquisition, the parties to the transaction under which the acquisition was made assumed was not payable.

133-10 Availability of adjustments under Division 19 for acquisitions

- (1) If:
- (a) you have a *decreasing adjustment under this Division for an acquisition; and
 - (b) the circumstances that gave rise to the adjustment also constitute an *adjustment event;
- you do not have a decreasing adjustment under section 19-70 for the acquisition in relation to those circumstances.
- (2) This section has effect despite section 19-70 (which is about adjustments for acquisitions arising because of adjustment events).
