Product Ruling

Income tax: 2004 Timbercorp Table Grape Project

This Addendum amends Product Ruling PR 2004/29 to reflect changes to simplified tax system legislation from 2005-06 onwards.

PR 2004/29 is amended as follows:

1. Paragraph 58

Replace the paragraph with:

58. To be an 'STS taxpayer' a Grower must be eligible to be an 'STS taxpayer' and must have elected to be an 'STS taxpayer'. Changes to the STS rules apply from 1 July 2005. From that date, STS taxpayers may use the accruals accounting method or can continue to use the cash accounting method (called the 'STS accounting method' – see section 328-125).

2. Paragraph 61

Replace the paragraph with:

61. Other than Growers referred to in paragraph 62, a Grower recognises ordinary income from carrying on their business of viticulture in the year in which the income is derived.

3. Paragraph 62

Replace the paragraph with:

62. A Grower who is an 'STS taxpayer' (for the 2003-04 and 2004-05 income years) or an 'STS taxpayer' continuing to use the cash accounting method (for the 2005-06 and later income years) recognises ordinary income from carrying on their business of viticulture in the year in which the income is received.

4. Paragraph 63

(a) In the table, in the row titled 'Interest on loans with Timbercorp Finance Pty Ltd' and in the column titled 'Year ended 30 June 2006', replace the content with:

As incurred (Non-STS taxpayers & STS taxpayers using accruals accounting method) Or as paid (STS taxpayers continuing to use cash accounting method) See Notes (iv) & (v)

(b) Replace Note (ii) with:

(ii) Where the Grower is not an 'STS taxpayer' or is an 'STS taxpayer' using the accruals accounting method (for the 2005-06 income year), the Management Fees and the Licence Fees including 'Royalty Fees' shown in the Grapelot Management Agreement and the Licence Agreement, respectively, are deductible under section 8-1 in full in the year that they are incurred. Where the Grower is an 'STS taxpayer' (for the 2003-04 and 2004-05 income years) or an 'STS taxpayer' continuing to use the cash accounting method (for the 2005-06 income year), these fees are deductible in full in the year in which they are paid.

5. Paragraph 65

(a) Replace the paragraph with:

65. For a Joint Venture Grower who is an 'STS taxpayer', the deductions referred to in paragraphs 63, other than the borrowing expenses, are deductible as follows:

- for the 2003-04 and 2004-05 income years, in the income year in which they are paid; and
- for the 2005-06 income year, in the income year in which they are incurred where the Joint Venture Grower is an 'STS taxpayer' using the accruals accounting method or in the income year in which they are paid where the Joint Venture Grower is an 'STS taxpayer' continuing to use the cash accounting method.

(b) Insert after paragraph 65:

65A. Borrowing costs for a Joint Venture Grower who is an 'STS taxpayer' remain deductible under section 25-25 in the years shown in the Table above. Each Joint Venture Grower may also claim deductions for its proportional share of the Incentive Fees and the horticultural plant write-off explained below.

6. Paragraph 97

Replace the paragraph with:

97. Under the Arrangement to which this Product Ruling applies Management and Licence Fees are incurred annually and interest payable to Timbercorp Finance is incurred monthly. Accordingly, the prepayment provisions in sections 82KZME and 82KZMF have no application to this Arrangement. A Grower who is an 'STS taxpayer' (for the 2003-04 and 2004-05 income years) or an 'STS taxpayer' continuing to use the cash accounting method (for the 2005-06 income year) can, therefore, claim a deduction for each of the relevant amounts in the income year in which the amount is paid. A Grower who is not an 'STS taxpayer' or who is an 'STS taxpayer' using the accruals accounting method (for the 2005-06 income year) can claim a deduction for each of the relevant amounts in the income year in which the fee is incurred.

This Addendum applies on and from 1 July 2005.
