Taxation Determination

Income tax: capital gains: how are the date of acquisition and the acquisition cost of bonus shares determined if the bonus shares are issued in relation to shares held by a deceased person at the date of their death and the bonus shares are issued after the date of death?

Preamble

This Taxation Determination is a 'public ruling' for the purposes of Part IVAAA of the Taxation Administration Act 1953 and is legally binding on the Commissioner. Taxation Rulings TR 92/1 and TR 97/16 together explain when a Determination is a public ruling and how it is legally binding on the Commissioner.

Date of Effect

This Determination applies after its date of issue. However, this Determination does not apply to taxpayers to the extent that it conflicts with the terms of settlement of a dispute agreed to before the date of the Determination (see paragraphs 21 and 22 of Taxation Ruling TR 92/20).

1. The date of acquisition and the acquisition cost of the bonus shares are determined having regard to the provisions of Subdivision 130-A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 ('the 1997 Act') and subsections 130-20(2) and (3) of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997 as applicable, as well as the general capital gains provisions in Parts 3-1, 3-3 and 3-5 of the 1997 Act.

2. Division 128 does not apply to the acquisition of the bonus shares, because they were not CGT assets the deceased owned just before dying and therefore did not form part of the estate of the deceased (Taxation Determination TD 93/38).

Example 1

You own shares and the company issues bonus shares and some part of the bonus shares is a dividend (or is taken to be a dividend under subsections 45(2) or 45C(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 ('the 1936 Act')):

3. On 6 January 1998, Donald purchased 1,000 shares in BAM Ltd for $2 each, cost $2000. Donald died on 15 April 1999 and the 1,000 shares in BAM Ltd formed part of the deceased estate.

4. On 10 May 1999, BAM Ltd declared a dividend of 10 cents per share and satisfies the payment of that dividend by issuing 50 bonus shares.

(i) Acquisition date of the bonus shares.

5. The bonus shares are acquired for CGT purposes by the legal personal representative ('LPR') or beneficiary on 10 May 1999. The bonus shares are acquired at the time of their issue.

Acquisition cost of the bonus shares.

6. The acquisition cost of the bonus shares is the amount of $100 (or $2 per bonus share) assessed as a dividend [subsection 130-20(2) of the 1997 Act]. No part of the cost of the original 1,000 shares (i.e. from Donald's estate) is apportioned to the bonus shares (Taxation Ruling IT 2603, paragraphs 31 to 38).

Example 2

No part of the bonus shares is a dividend (or is taken to be a dividend under subsections 45(2)( or 45C(1) of the 1936 Act):

7. Assume that the facts in Example 1 are unchanged, except that the 50 bonus shares in BAM Ltd issued to the LPR or beneficiary on 10 May 1999 are issued out of the share capital account of the company. In this case, no part of the bonus shares is a dividend (paragraph (d) of the definition of 'dividend' in subsection 6(1) of the 1936 Act).

(i) Acquisition date of the bonus shares.

8. The bonus shares are deemed to be acquired by the LPR or the beneficiary (being 'the shareholder', for the purposes of subsection 130-20(3) of the 1997 Act), when you acquired the original shares (subsection 130-20(3) of the 1997 Act). The original shares are deemed to have been acquired by the LPR or beneficiary at the date of Donald's death i.e. 15 April 1999 (section 128-15 of the 1997 Act). Thus, the bonus shares are also deemed to have been acquired on 15 April 1999.

(ii) Acquisition cost of the bonus shares.

9. Subsection 130-20(3) of the 1997 Act determines the acquisition cost of the bonus (and original) shares. It is appropriate in this case for the acquisition cost of the original shares to be spread evenly over the original and bonus shares.

10. The acquisition cost of the original shares is determined in accordance with section 128-15 of the 1997 Act. In effect, the $2,000 cost of the original shares to Donald is apportioned over the 1,050 shares (i.e. $1.90 per share).

11. The acquisition cost of each original share is therefore $1.90 and, because no amount was actually paid by the LPR or the beneficiary for the bonus shares, the acquisition cost of each bonus share is also $1.90.

Previous Determinations

12. This Taxation Determination rewrites and replaces Taxation Determination TD 95/53. There is no material change in this Taxation Determination to the views expressed in TD 95/53 apart from updating it with the rewritten income tax law in the 1997 Act and with recent Corporations Law changes.

13. Parts 3-1, 3-3 and 3-5, Subdivision 130-A, sections 128-15 and 995-1 and subsections 130-20(2) and 130-20(3) of the 1997 Act, to which this Determination refers, express the same ideas, respectively, as Part IIIA, Divisions 8 and 8A, sections 160ZYH and 160X, subsection 6(1) and paragraphs 160X(5)(b) and 160ZYG(b) of the 1936 Act.
