

Tax file number – application or enquiry for individuals living outside Australia

INTRODUCTION

YOUR TAX FILE NUMBER (TFN) AND KEEPING IT SAFE

A TFN is a unique number we issue to individuals. It is an important part of your tax and superannuation records, as well as your identity. It is also an important part of locating and keeping track of your superannuation savings. In the wrong hands, it could be used to commit fraud, so keep it safe. Make sure you protect your identity by keeping all your personal details secure, including your TFN.

We only issue one TFN to you during your lifetime – even if you change jobs, change your name, or move.

- You can find out more about how to protect your TFN and avoid identity crime at ato.gov.au/identitycrime

WHEN TO USE THIS FORM

You can use this form if you:

- have never had a TFN
- have a TFN, but cannot find it on any of your tax papers.

WHAT IF I HAVE LOST MY TFN?

If you have lost your TFN, check all your correspondence from us or contact your registered tax agent.

If you still cannot find your TFN or would like to update your details, you can contact us. See 'More information' on page 7.

WHO SHOULD SIGN THIS FORM?

You can apply for a TFN at any age. However, if you are:

- 16 years or older – you must sign your application
- 13 to 15 years old – you or your parent or guardian can sign
- 12 years old or under – your parent or guardian must sign on your behalf.

- If a parent or guardian signs on behalf of the applicant, they will need to provide further information when they submit the form – see 'Parent or Guardian' on page 5.

WHEN WILL I RECEIVE MY TFN?

You should receive your TFN within 28 days after we receive your completed application and required documents. We appreciate your patience during the processing period – do not lodge another application during this time, and allow for possible delays with international mail.

HOW DO I APPLY?

Foreign residents

Visit ato.gov.au/residency to check your Australian residency status for tax purposes.

You can apply for a TFN using this form, if you are a foreign resident for tax purposes and:

- you receive rental income from an Australian property
- you receive income from Australian business interests
- your spouse is
 - an Australian resident, and
 - applying for the Australian family tax benefit
- you are a member of an Australian superannuation fund
 - you expect to receive benefits from
 - you intend to make personal contributions to, or
 - to which contributions are made on your behalf
- you need to lodge an Australian income tax return to claim
 - a refund of tax that has been withheld from an Australian bank account, and/or
 - dividends from Australian shares
- you want to apply for an Australian business number (ABN) and, if applicable, another associated business account, such as goods and services tax (GST) – for example, if you receive an appearance fee under contract as an entertainer or sportsperson.

We recommend you complete this TFN application before registering for an ABN – this will speed up processing of your ABN application. You can register for an ABN at abr.gov.au

- For information about Australian residency, see 'Australian residents' on page 3.

Receiving interest, dividends and royalty payments Non-resident withholding tax

- ! If you are a foreign resident for tax purposes, you do not need a TFN if you only receive:
- interest from an Australian bank account
 - dividends from Australian shares, or
 - royalty payments.

Your withholding tax is deducted at the tax rate applicable to your country of residence before you receive these payments. You do not need to declare this income on your Australian tax return.

However, you must:

- inform your investment bodies (for example, banks) that you are a non-resident, and
- provide an overseas address for statements.

- > For more information about withholding tax rates, phone +61 2 6216 1111 between 8.00am and 5.00pm (Australian Eastern Standard Time or Eastern Daylight-saving Time), Monday to Friday, and ask to be transferred to Personal tax enquiries.

TFN withholding tax

If you are a non-resident, you must not provide your TFN to investment bodies, unless your investment body is acting as your Australian superannuation fund manager.

It is not an offence not to quote a TFN to your superannuation fund, but if you do not supply it you may have more tax withheld than you need to.

If an investment body deducts TFN withholding tax from your interest, dividend or royalty payments, instead of non-resident withholding tax, you can apply for a refund of the difference. Do this by lodging an Australian income tax return together with the statement showing tax has been deducted.

Permanent migrants and temporary visitors

If you are a permanent migrant or temporary visitor to Australia with work rights, you may be able to apply for a TFN online at any time after entering Australia. Go to iar.ato.gov.au

Australian residents

Visit ato.gov.au/residency to check your Australian residency status for tax purposes.

The residency tests we use to determine your residency status for tax purposes are not the same as those used by other Australian agencies for other purposes, such as immigration.

If you are an Australian resident for tax purposes, you cannot use this form. For information on TFNs, including other ways to apply, go to ato.gov.au/tfn

HOW TO COMPLETE THE APPLICATION FORM

SECTION A: APPLICANT INFORMATION

Your answers to the questions in this section will help us establish whether you are already on our records or not.

Gender

The gender on your supporting documents must match your selection at question 6. If not, you need to provide a certified copy of one of the following as an additional supporting document:

- a statement from a Registered Medical Practitioner or a Registered Psychologist which specifies your gender
- a valid Australian Government travel document, such as a valid passport, which specifies your gender, or
- a state or territory birth certificate, which specifies your gender. A document from a state or territory Registrar of Births, Deaths and Marriages recognising your change in gender will also be sufficient evidence.

➤ For more information on the Recognition of Sex and Gender, go to ato.gov.au/gender.

! DEFINITION OF SPOUSE

A spouse includes another person (of any sex) who:

- you are legally married to
- you are in a relationship with that is registered under a prescribed state or territory law
- although not legally married to you, lives with you on a genuine domestic basis in a relationship as a couple.

SECTION B: ADDRESS DETAILS

Your TFN will be sent to the postal address you provide – this could be your home address, your post office box, or your registered tax agent's postal address.

We may use these details to send notices and correspondence about your taxation affairs.

SECTION C: REASON FOR APPLICATION

Provide all details where you can at question 11.

SECTION D: CONTACT DETAILS

Provide all details where you can at question 12.

You can also provide details of a registered tax agent or legal representative in Australia at question 14.

SECTION E: SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS

When you lodge your application, you must provide documents that prove your identity for registration purposes (proof of identity).

What are the proof of identity requirements?

! If you do not provide all the proof of identity documents we ask for, your application will be returned to you and we cannot issue you with a TFN.

You must provide two current documents as proof of identity – see 'Acceptable proof of identity documents' on page 5. We accept certified copies of original documents. Do not send us original documents. Certified copies of documents that you mail to us may not be returned to you.

Documents that have been corrected or changed and initialled are not acceptable. We may check the supporting documents you supply with the agencies that issued them.

Certified copies of documents

If you are in Australia, you can have copies of your documents certified by an authorised certifier, including a:

- barrister
- solicitor
- doctor
- judge
- Justice of the Peace
- minister of religion (who is authorised to celebrate marriage)
- police officer
- bank, building society or credit union officer with at least five years service
- sheriff's officer
- Commissioner of Declarations (in Queensland only).

➤ Refer to our website for a full list of certifiers. If you are:

- in Australia – ato.gov.au/certifydocs_Australia
- outside Australia – ato.gov.au/certifydocs_international

If you are outside Australia, you can have your documents photocopied and certified as true and correct by:

- a Notary Public
- staff at your nearest Australian:
 - embassy
 - high commission, or
 - consulate, including consulates headed by honorary Austrade consuls.

Visit the Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade website at dfat.gov.au for a listing of their offices by country.

Copies bearing an apostille

We will accept another way of supplying copies of public documents, including birth and marriage certificates, from outside Australia. This option may be more suitable if you are not within a reasonable distance of an Australian embassy, high commission or consulate.

If your country is a party to the Hague Apostille Convention, you can ask the Competent Authority in your country to certify a copy of your documents.

Documents in your previous name

If any of your documents are in your previous name, you must provide another document that shows how you changed your name – for example, a marriage certificate, deed poll or change of name certificate.

Documents in languages other than English

If any of your documents are not in English, you must provide a written translation that an authorised translation service has certified as a true and correct copy. If you are in Australia, details of accredited translators and interpreters can be found at naati.com.au If you are outside Australia, you can get the name of an approved translation service from your nearest Australian:

- embassy
- high commission, or
- consulate.

You must show staff original documents, not photocopies. The documents must not be altered in any way – a document that has been corrected or changed and initialled is not acceptable.

Consular staff can not:

- issue TFNs, or
- mail or transmit your application for you.

! CONSULAR STAFF

You should:

- photocopy original proof of identity documents, and
- certify on the copies that they are genuine photocopies, but do not write on the application.

PARENT OR GUARDIAN

Can I sign the form if I am a parent or guardian?

Depending on the age of the applicant, a parent or guardian may be eligible to sign the form on behalf of the applicant. See 'Who should sign this form' on page 2.

What do I need to provide if I sign on behalf of the applicant?

If you sign on behalf of the applicant, you must provide all of the information outlined at question 16 on the form.
